

CURRICULUM VITAE

EMILY C. BLANK
DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMICS
HOWARD UNIVERSITY
(202) 806-6717
eblank@howard.edu

Ph.D., Boston College, 1985
B.A., Bryn Mawr College, 1975
London School of Economics, 1981 –82

One basic unit of Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) at St. Elizabeths Hospital, Summer, 1992
Cantorial Certification from Maalot Seminary, Rockville, MD, 1999.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Contract Work for Economic Policy Institute 2007-2008.
Associate Professor, Howard University 1985 - present
Visiting Scholar, Economic Research Service, United States
Department of Agriculture, 1992 Spring Sabbatical Leave
Teaching Fellow, Boston College 1977-1979, 1982-1984
Undergraduate courses in statistics 1 and 2; Econometrics, Principles of Microeconomics,
Principles of Macroeconomics, Labor Economics, Intermediate Microeconomics,
Industrial Relations
Graduate course in Human Resources, Manpower and Poverty, Topics

PUBLICATIONS

- “Wage Growth and Changes in Stocks of On-the-Job Training”, to the Howard University
Discussion Paper Series (Discussion paper #87-02) October 1987
- “The Effect of Current Hours of Work on the Future Wage Rate”, Atlantic Economic Journal (Anthology Section) Vol. XVI, (2), June 1988.
- “Layoffs and Wage Growth of Male Household Heads”, Eastern Economic Journal, July-September 1988 14 (3), pp. 239-250. (abstracted in the September 1989 Journal of Economic Literature).
- “Job Mobility and Wage Growth of Male Household Heads”, Applied Economics. April 1989
21 (4), pp. 475-485. (PSID)

“Changes in On-the-Job-Training Stocks, Race and Wage Growth” Review of Black Political Economy. Spring 1989 17 (4), pp. 47-57.

“Layoffs and Wage Growth: The Role of Timing and Tenure”, Atlantic Economic Journal, December 1990 18 (4) pp. 68-74.

Emily Blank and Janet Griffin-Graves, “Layoffs and Their Impact on Wage Rates and Hours of Work, Business and Economics Review, 1996.

Emily C. Blank “Defined Benefits Pensions, Defined Contributions Pensions, and the Adequacy of Retirement Wealth, in Industrial Relations, 38(1), 1999.

Emily C. Blank, “Returns to Farm Operators, in Improvement in the Measure of Farm-owners’ Time”, to Pennsylvania Economic Review, Fall, 1999.

Emily Blank, Rodney Green, et.al, “Discrimination in Mortgage Lending”, Fall, 2007 Review of Black Political Economy

GRANTS, PROJECTS & POSITIONS

Emily C. Blank, Grant from the U.S. Department of Labor, “Types of Pension Plans and Retirement Income”, 1994-1995

Emily C. Blank Grant from the U.S. Department of Labor, “Pension Savings and Emotional Health”, 1997-1998.

Emily C. Blank Grant from the U.S. Department of Labor “Marital Status of Women and Wealth”, 1998-1999.

PROVIDED FOR HOWARD UNIVERSITY - WASHINGTON, D.C.

Emily C. Blank “Work Effort of Junior Faculty”, June 1993. University sponsored Faculty Research Program in Social Sciences, Humanities, and Education.

Undergraduate School Service

Admissions Committee Chair, 3 terms, Chair for 1 term

Graduate School Service

Chair of Graduate Admission Committee for the Department of Economics, 1991-1992
Served on Dissertation Committees of Arlease Sallie, Christian Ngwu.

Taught Graduate Labor Courses 1992-1996, 2003-2005.
Taught Graduate Statistics, Spring 1997.

Departmental Service

Served as Appointment, Promotion, and Tenure Chair 1993-1994 and 2005-2006.
Served as Director of Undergraduate Studies from Fall 2009 to present