In direct response to your feedback we are introducing a new sentencing supplement to the Archbold service that will include the Sentencing Guidelines in full, as they are issued by the Sentencing Council. The sentencing supplement also includes the relevant authorities and an abridged version of the Magistrates' Court sentencing guideline. The original pagination from the guidelines will be retained in the paragraph numbering for easy reference. -- publisher website.

Archbold's Criminal Pleading, Evidence and Practice

Archbold is a regularly cited publication in the criminal courts and a companion for all those involved in the administration of criminal law. It provides the reader with all the material needed when preparing for and during a trial, including both substantive law and the practice and procedure of the courts. The 2001 edition updates sentencing law as consolidated by the Powers of Criminal Courts (Sentencing) Act 2000, and Human Rights law in anticipation of the Act coming into force. It addresses the gradual implementation of the Access to Justice Act 1999 and the Youth Justice and Criminal Evidence Act 1999. There are practice directions and recent cases, such as R v Antoine, R v Z and Morgan v DPP (House of Lords), discussing issues such as diminished responsibility, inferences from silence, custody time limits, disclosure and similar fact evidence.
