Goodnight moon and glimmering stars. Goodnight swish of passing cars. Goodnight aeroplane in the sky, Red light, green light, winking high. A soothing and reassuring bedtime book from an award-winning poet - for sharing with very young children at bedtime or at other quiet times.

A boy is excluded from joining his friends' pet club because of his unusual pet.

You could hardly blame Dexter, ordinarily a well-behaved young dragon, for showing off when he suddenly found that he could make clouds of smoke. The temptation is irresistible, but Dexter quickly becomes insufferable. First he watches his own reflection in the river in order to admire the smoke. Then he puffs it in the faces of his friends: the zebra, the giraffe, and the elephant. He even blows smoke rings around his own tail to prove how clever he is. Soon Dexter has no friends left. He is a very lonely dragon indeed, until quite by accident he discovers a way his talent can be used to win back his playmates. This wonderful story -- first published in 1953 -- will delight both young readers and their parents, and so will Lisa McCue's appealing new pictures of this lovable show-off.
