Investments, real estate, and cash lending were some of the very few forms of passive income we had in the past. As you can see, it took money (and quite a significant amount) to make money. But with the rise of the Internet, more and more people have the possibility to create passive income, with little to no financial investment.

Although today it is easier than ever to get started, creating passive income is no easy task. If you want to be successful, think of it as a business. Make a small plan, get started, and commit to consistently working on it. Easier said than done. This planner is designed specifically to help you decide, start creating and building streams of passive income by selling products. There is an initial assessment and brainstorming spread where you lay out your skills and strengths, to help you decide which streams of passive income are best for you to pursue. Some product and platform examples are provided just before the deciding spread, where you commit to one type of passive income stream you'd like to start with. There are spreads for five streams of passive income. For each stream, there are planning and assessment spreads. The role of these pages is to help you figure out whether your passive income stream is profitable and sustainable. Based on these results you can decide to continue with your passive income stream, or move onto another one. When starting out, it is important to achieve a balance between quantity and quality of products you create. Some streams of passive income, stock photography for example, require you to create a fairly large number of products before you will see any substantial income. However, to make any sales, you also have to create high quality products; in this example, high resolution, usable and in demand images. Therefore, when you commit to one stream of passive income, consistently work on it for at least one year before deciding if it is successful or not. As you are creating and listing more and more products for sale, you will have to keep track of them. Starting from page 51, there are product tracking spreads for you to record everything you are creating and selling. mNow what are you waiting for? Start creating passive income streams, and make money while you sleep!

However, a passive income is still work. A major misconception on the subject is that you can set up a passive income today and start making money on autopilot tomorrow. That rarely happens. Most passive income streams, especially those whose nature concentrates on the online space, require that you put in the work now so that later, you may stop working full time. That does not mean you will not work at all; you will. All worthwhile passive income streams require some form of maintenance. With that said, it's easy to understand why many people believe that a passive income means no work at all: because well set up passive income streams can requires as little as a few hours of maintenance work per week or month to continue generating revenue. Take the example of a well set up blog. If you put in the time now into creating great, search engine friendly, evergreen content-say about 100-200 pieces of genuinely good and valuable content which would take a year of more-in a year or two, you can stop actively working on the website or blog every day. You can monetize the traffic coming to the website through various strategies such as affiliate marketing and advertising so that you can generate an income even as you post once or twice per week-some blogs continue to earn a passive income each month even without any maintenance work. As you can see from the above, setting up an online passive income does not mean not working; it simply means putting in the work upfront so that later, you can work less and still generate an income. This passive income definition is the one we shall use as we work through the steps in this guide. This guide shall discuss, in a systematic manner, proven business models and ideas that when well implemented, shall help*

Conversely, passive income is cash that continues to pay out following the initial work is done.*
