

A Narrative Of Events Since The First Of August 1834 By James Williams An Apprenticed Laborer In Jamaica Dover Thrift Editions

*A Narrative of Events, since the First of August, 1834, by James Williams, an Apprenticed Labourer in JamaicaDuke University Press

This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it. This work is in the public domain in the United States of America, and possibly other nations. Within the United States, you may freely copy and distribute this work, as no entity (individual or corporate) has a copyright on the body of the work. Scholars believe, and we concur, that this work is important enough to be preserved, reproduced, and made generally available to the public. To ensure a quality reading experience, this work has been proofread and republished using a format that seamlessly blends the original graphical elements with text in an easy-to-read typeface. We appreciate your support of the preservation process, and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant.

Being a Narrative of Events During the Second Burmese War, From August 1852 to Its Conclusion in June 1853 (Classic Reprint)

Pegu

An Apprenticed Labourer in Jamaica

A Voice From Harper's Ferry

A Narrative of Events at Lake George, from the Early Colonial Times to the Close of the Revolution

This book brings back into print, for the first time since the 1830s, a text that was central to the transatlantic campaign to fully abolish slavery in Britain ' s colonies. James Williams, an eighteen-year-old Jamaican " apprentice " (former slave), came to Britain in 1837 at the instigation of the abolitionist Joseph Sturge. The Narrative he produced there, one of very few autobiographical texts by Caribbean slaves or former slaves, became one of the most powerful abolitionist tools for effecting the immediate end to the system of apprenticeship that had replaced slavery. Describing the hard working conditions on plantations and the harsh treatment of apprentices unjustly incarcerated, Williams argues that apprenticeship actually worsened the conditions of Jamaican ex-slaves: former owners, no longer legally permitted to directly punish their workers, used the Jamaican legal system as a punitive lever against them. Williams ' s story documents the collaboration of local magistrates in this practice, wherein apprentices were routinely jailed and beaten for both real and imaginary infractions of the apprenticeship regulations. In addition to the complete text of Williams ' s original Narrative, this fully annotated edition includes nineteenth-century responses to the controversy from the British and Jamaican press, as well as extensive testimony from the Commission of Enquiry that heard evidence regarding the Narrative ' s claims. These fascinating and revealing documents constitute the largest extant body of direct testimony by Caribbean slaves or apprentices.

Mark's gospel has attracted an enormous amount of scholarly attention over recent decades. The major themes of the gospel have been studied exhaustively and from a variety of critical perspectives. But at least one important theme in Mark has been comparatively neglected in recent study, the theme of faith. This critically acclaimed book redresses such neglect through a thorough exegetical and literary study of all the references to faith in Mark's composition.

A Voice from Harper's Ferry. a Narrative of Events at Harper's Ferry; Volume 1

A Narrative of Events at Lake George, from the Early Colonial Times to the Close of the Revolution (Classic Reprint)

A Narrative of Events, Since the First of August, 1834

A Narrative of Events in Vienna, From Latour to Windischgrätz, Tr. by J.E. Taylor

A narrative of events since the first of august, 1834

A Narrative of Events, since the First of August, 1834, by James Williams, an Apprenticed Labourer in Jamaica

This volume represents the culmination of an extensive research project that studied the development of linguistic form/function relations in narrative discourse. It is unique in the extent of data which it analyzes--more than 250 texts from children and ad speaking five different languages--and in its crosslinguistic, typological focus. It is the first book to address the issue of how the structural properties and rhetorical preferences of different native languages--English, German, Spanish, Hebrew, and Turkish--impinge on narrative abilities across different phases of development. The work of Berman and Slobin and their colleagues provides insight into the interplay between shared, possibly universal, patterns in the developing ability to create well-constructed, globally organized narratives among preschoolers from three years of age compared with school children and adults, contrasted against the impact of typological and rhetorical features of particular native languages on how speakers express these abilities in the process of "relating events in narrative." This volume also makes a special contribution to the field of language acquisition and development by providing detailed analyses of how linguistic forms come to be used in the service of narrative functions, such as the expression of temporal relations of simultaneity and retrospection, perspective-taking on events, and textual connectivity. To present this information, the authors prepared in-depth analyses of a wide range of linguistic systems, including tense-aspect marking, passive and middle voice, locative and directional predications, connectivity markers, null subjects, and relative clause constructions. In contrast to most work in the field of language acquisition, this book focuses on developments in the use of these early forms in extended discourse--beyond the initial phase of early language development. The book offers a pioneering approach to the interactions between form and function in the development and use of language, from a typological linguistic perspective. The study is based on a large crosslinguistic corpus of narratives, elicited from preschool, school-age, and adult subjects. All of the narratives were elicited by the same picture storybook,Frog, Where Are You?, by Mercer Mayer. (An appendix lists related studies using the same storybook in 50 languages.) The findings illuminate both universal and language-specific patterns of development, providing new insights into questions of language and thought.

Excerpt from Narrative of Events in Borneo and Celebes, Down to the Occupation of Labuan, Vol. 2 of 2: From the Journals of James Brooke, Esq., Rajah of Sarawak, and Governof of Labuan, Together With a Narrative of the Operations of H. M.S. Iris Upon the whole, though the standard of morality is not very high, it cannot be considered low, and, in fact, is what might be expected amongst an agricultural and warlike people; and as the women have so decided a preference for the men whose bravery and deeds of arms are notorious, it readily accounts for the mass of the populace being ad dicted to war. Looking, then, at the position of these uncivilised and barbarous tribes with a calm and impartial view, we can scarcely be surprised at their fondness for warlike pursuits and it may even be doubted whether Europeans might not be found who would take the heads of their dead enemies to gain the smiles and embraces of beauty. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work. Forgotten Books uses state-of-the-art technology to digitally reconstruct the work, preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy. In rare cases, an imperfection in the original, such as a blemish or missing page, may be replicated in our edition. We do, however, repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully; any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works.

Three Years in the Sixth Corps

A Life of Gen. Zachary Taylor

Narrative of Events in Borneo and Celebes, Down to the Occupation of Labuan

Narrative of Events Since the 1. of August, 1834

A Narrative of Events in the South of France, and of the Attack on New Orleans, in 1814 and 1815

The Woodhouselee Ms

This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important, and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it. This work was reproduced from the original artifact, and remains as true to the original work as possible. Therefore, you will see the original copyright references, library stamps (as most of these works have been housed in our most important libraries around the world), and other notations in the work.This work is in the public domain in the United States of America, and possibly other nations. Within the United States, you may freely copy and distribute this work, as no entity (individual or corporate) has a copyright on the body of the work.As a reproduction of a historical artifact, this work may contain missing or blurred pages, poor pictures, errant marks, etc. Scholars believe, and we concur, that this work is important enough to be preserved, reproduced, and made generally available to the public. We appreciate your support of the preservation process, and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant.

This is a reproduction of the original artefact. Generally these books are created from careful scans of the original. This allows us to preserve the book accurately and present it in the way the author intended. Since the original versions are generally quite old, there may occasionally be certain imperfections within these reproductions. We're happy to make these classics available again for future generations to enjoy!

The Empire State in Three Centuries, Vol. 2

Abduction of Juan Francisco Rey

Sunshine and Storm in Rhodesia; Being a Narrative of Events in Matabeleland

Mary Queen of Scots in Captivity

From the Journals of James Brooke, Rajah of Sarawak, and Governor of Labuan, Together with a Narrative of the Operations of H.M.S. Iris

The Chitral Campaign

This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important, and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it. This work was reproduced from the original artifact, and remains as true to the original work as possible. Therefore, you will see the original copyright references, library stamps (as most of these works have been housed in our most important libraries around the world), and other notations in the work. This work is in the public domain in the United States of America, and possibly other nations. Within the United States, you may freely copy and distribute this work, as no entity (individual or corporate) has a copyright on the body of the work. As a reproduction of a historical artifact, this work may contain missing or blurred pages, poor pictures, errant marks, etc. Scholars believe, and we concur, that this work is important enough to be preserved, reproduced, and made generally available to the public. We appreciate your support of the preservation process, and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant.

Excerpt from Lives of the Presidents of the United States of America, From Washington to the Present Time: Containing a Narrative of the Most Interesting Events in the Career of Each President; Thus Constituting a Graphic History of the United States The policy of the Government had been so distinctly marked out by Gen. Jackson, and Mr. Van Buren had so distinctly avowed his attention of following in the footsteps of his illus trions predecessor, that there was no call for the introduction of any new acts, or for any change in the administration. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work. Forgotten Books uses state-of-the-art technology to digitally reconstruct the work, preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy. In rare cases, an imperfection in the original, such as a blemish or missing page, may be replicated in our edition. We do, however, repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully; any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works.

Embracing a Narrative of Events from the Death of James V. in 1542 Until the Death of Queen Mary in 1587

Comprising a Narrative of Events Connected With His Professional Career, Derived From Public Documents and Private Correspondence (Classic Reprint)

A Narrative of Events Which Occurred in Baltimore Town During the Revolutionary War

Being a Narrative of Events in Connection with the Preachings of the Gospel in the Trans-Ghaghra Country

Containing a Narrative of the Most Interesting Events in the Career of Each President; Thus Constituting a Graphic History of the United States

Narrative of Events in Borneo and Celebes, Down to the Occupation of Labuan, Vol. 2 of 2

Excerpt from A Life of Gen. Zachary Taylor: Comprising a Narrative of Events Connected With His Professional Career, Derived From Public Documents and Private Correspondence Tm: time is not yet mature for a biography of General Tay lor, which will do thorough justice to his character and military services. Only eighteen months have elapsed, since his ability as a commander began to be generally recognized. His varied and extraordinary achievements within that period have-justly excited popular curiosity regarding his early life, as well as his late career. To meet, therefore, a want of the day, this volume has been prepared. No profession is made respecting it, ex cept that pains have been taken to procure accurate information touching the circumstances of Taylor's family, the incidents of his youth, and his services in the Indian wars. The outline of his proceedings in Mexico is drawn partly from private letters, but chie?y from his own official correspondence. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work. Forgotten Books uses state-of-the-art technology to digitally reconstruct the work, preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy. In rare cases, an imperfection in the original, such as a blemish or missing page, may be replicated in our edition. We do, however, repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully; any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works.

Excerpt from Pegu: Being a Narrative of Events During the Second Burmese War, From August 1852 to Its Conclusion in June 1853 Be attributed. And yet, after all, the Author is not sure if he could have sent forth a better book from his quiet Owl's Nest in the old Tower at home! Perhaps too much attention has been paid. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work. Forgotten Books uses state-of-the-art technology to digitally reconstruct the work, preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy. In rare cases, an imperfection in the original, such as a blemish or missing page, may be replicated in our edition. We do, however, repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully; any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works.

From the Journals of James Brooke, Esq., Rajah of Sarawak, and Governof of Labuan, Together With a Narrative of the Operations of H. M.S. Iris (Classic Reprint)

The Gospel in Gonda

Narrative of Events in Vienna, from LaTour to Windischgrätz: (september to November, 1848.)

A Narrative of Events From His Own Lips (Classic Reprint)

Pegu, Being a Narrative of Events During the Second Burmese War, from August 1852 to Its Conclusion in June 1853

A Narrative of Events from January 1569, to December, 1584, Whilst George Earl of Shrewsbury Was the Guardian of the Scottish Queen

Excerpt from Three Years in the Sixth Corps: A Concise Narrative of Events in the Army of the Potomac, From 1861 to the Close of the Rebellion, April 1865 The following pages are offered to my old comrades of the Sixth Corps, with the hope that they may pleasantly recall the many varied experiences of that unparalleled body of men. If much has been omitted which should have been written, or if anything has been said which should have been left out, I rely upon the generosity of brave men to treat with leniency the failings they may detect. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work. Forgotten Books uses state-of-the-art technology to digitally reconstruct the work, preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy. In rare cases, an imperfection in the original, such as a blemish or missing page, may be replicated in our edition. We do, however, repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully; any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works.

Excerpt from The Empire State in Three Centuries, Vol. 2: A Narrative of Events by Daniel Van Pelt John Brown's Connection with New York Edwin D. Morgan, Governor W'lliam H. Seward in the Convention of 1860 - Seward as Secretary of State - Efforts at Peace - The State of tri-insula - l)ispach of John A. Dix Shoot Hi-m on the Spot - F0rt Sumter and the Call for Troops - Response of the State in Men and Money - Camps on Long and Staten Islands - Horatio Seymour Again Governor - His Arrainment of the National Administration The Draft Riots in New York City - Attempted Assassination of Secretary Seward - New York's Share in the Burdens of War. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work. Forgotten Books uses state-of-the-art technology to digitally reconstruct the work, preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy. In rare cases, an imperfection in the original, such as a blemish or missing page, may be replicated in our edition. We do, however, repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully; any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works.

A Narrative of the Events Which Have Taken Place in France

The Land War in Ireland

Doctor Johns

Mary Queen of Scots and Her Accusers

A Crosslinguistic Developmental Study

The Chitral Campaign a Narrative of Events in Chitral, Swat and Bajour

This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important, and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it. This work was reproduced from the original artifact, and remains as true to the original work as possible. Therefore, you will see the original copyright references, library stamps (as most of these works have been housed in our most important libraries around the world), and other notations in the work. This work is in the public domain in the United States of America, and possibly other nations. Within the United States, you may freely copy and distribute this work, as no entity (individual or corporate) has a copyright on the body of the work.As a reproduction of a historical artifact, this work may contain missing or blurred pages, poor pictures, errant marks, etc. Scholars believe, and we concur, that this work is important enough to be preserved, reproduced, and made generally available to the public. We appreciate your support of the preservation process, and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant.

Excerpt from Abduction of Juan Francisco Rey: A Narrative of Events From His Own Lips This was the Consul's house, as testified to in the examination before the committing magistrates by Ayala and Mr. Duquesne, the Consul' Chancellor. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work. Forgotten Books uses state-of-the-art technology to digitally reconstruct the work, preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy. In rare cases, an imperfection in the original, such as a blemish or missing page, may be replicated in our edition. We do, however, repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully; any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works.

Being a Personal Narrative of Events in Continuation of "A Secret History of the English Occupation of Egypt."

A Narrative of Events in Chitral, Swat and Bajour

A Narrative of Events at Harper's Ferry

Narrative of events, since the first of August, 1834 by James Williams, an apprenticed labourer in Jamaica

Personal Narrative of Events, from 1799 to 1815, with Anecdotes

Being a Narrative of Certain Events in the Life of an Orthodox Minister of Connecticut

Excerpt from A Narrative of Events at Lake George, From the Early Colonial Times to the Close of the Revolution Father Jogues, therefore, was probably the first European who sailed upon the waters of the beautiful Lake of the Holy Sacrament.

About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work. Forgotten Books uses state-of-the-art technology to digitally reconstruct the work, preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy. In rare cases, an imperfection in the original, such as a blemish or missing page, may be replicated in our edition. We do, however, repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully; any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works.

Faith as a Theme in Mark's Narrative

A Narrative of Events by Daniel Van Pelt (Classic Reprint)

A Concise Narrative of Events in the Army of the Potomac, From 1861 to the Close of the Rebellion, April 1865 (Classic Reprint)

To Which Are Appended, Various Documents and Letters, the Greater Part of Which Have Never Been Heretofore Published

A Narrative of Events Since the First of August, 1834

Relating Events in Narrative