Creative ways to use the garden to inspire learning, for kids ages 4-8 Packed with garden-based activities that promote science, math, reading, writing, imaginative play, and arts and crafts, The Garden Classroom offers a whole year of outdoor play and learning ideas—however big or small your garden. Every garden offers children a rich, sensory playground, full of interesting things to discover and learn about. There's a whole lot of science happening right before their eyes. The garden can also be a place to develop math and literacy skills, as the outdoors offers up plenty of invitations to weave learning into everyday gardening. The garden classroom is a place where plants grow, and where children grow too.

Young Lentil wants to learn to sing, but no matter how hard he tries he can ' t sing on key. He can ' t even pucker his lips to whistle! So Lentil learns to play the harmonica instead and beautifully carries his tune through the winding streets of Alto, Ohio. Lentil masters his craft just as the beloved Colonel Carter returns to town and the Alto residents decide to plan a special celebration. But Old Sneep, the grouchiest man in town, doesn ' t want anyone celebrating Colonel Carter ' s homecoming. When Old Sneep stops the welcoming parade in its tracks, Lentil ' s music turns out to be just what Alto needs. Robert

McCloskey, the Caldecott-winning author and illustrator of Make Way for Ducklings, brings readers this delightful two color picture book.

The Garden Classroom

This book is a wonderful mix between coloring and geographic information, it contains 47 flags of countries around the world for coloring (the first part of the American continent and Oceania), and on the back of the book we placed the flags of all countries numbered according to the pages inside the book as color guides. Each page contains one flag with a map, the name of the country and the capital, in addition to statistics of area and population. Intended for adults and children. The large size will facilitate the coloring process, and this will make your child enjoy coloring country flags and memorizing their names. Request a copy for you or your child now and enjoy it.
