before the birth and up to your baby's first birthday. Ensure that no special moments are forgotten, thanks to handy prompts as well as plenty of space. You can write down thoughts about everything your baby is learning, as well as all the new experiences, such as feeding and sleeping patterns and baby's favorite bathtime toy. You'll also record developmental milestones and those all-important "firsts," from your first night at home together to baby's first steps. There is also space to note information about the world your little one was born into, such as who was president, popular music, and prices of stamps and milk. A month-by-month section allows you to keep track of your baby's constant achievements and changing behavior, and also includes advice from Annabel Karmel on your baby's development and handy tips to encourage it. Five recipes will inspire you to make delicious, healthy food for your baby at various stages, self-sufficient. This 6x9-inch notebook contains 107 pages of heavy quality white paper and is a great way for boys and girls to keep track of their daily tasks; 52 weekly pages are included so it will help you see progress for an entire year. Its size is easy for little hands to carry and can easily fit in a drawer, nightstand, or storage bin. The purpose of this chore book is to help kids set goals and track their progress on a daily basis by placing a check mark, sticker, or smiley face for each task completed. At the end of the week they can reflect on their progress and determine what changes if any they need to do the following week. In addition to tracking chores around the house and school, this logbook can also be used to motivate children by providing positive reinforcements for a job well done. Behavior contract is included. What a great tool for opening the lines of communication between parent and
