"A Pet for Tom" will help you to see the world around you in a different way, to learn that human beings dominate the planet only by pure chance and that, maybe, someday things can be different.

Rhetorical Unconsciousness and Political Psychoanalysis investigates unintentional forms of persuasion, their political consequences, and our ethical relation to the same. M. Lane Bruner argues that the unintentional ways we are persuaded are far more important than intentional persuasion; in fact all intentional persuasion is built on the foundations of rhetorical unconsciousness, whether we are persuaded through ignorance (the unsayable), unconscious symbolic processes (the unspoken), or productive repression (the unspeakable). Bruner brings together a wide range of theoretical approaches to unintentional persuasion, establishing the locations of such persuasion and providing examples taken from the Western European transition from feudalism to capitalism. To be more specific, phenomena related to artificial personhood and the commodity self have led to transformations in material culture from architecture to theater, showing how rhetorical unconsciousness works to create symptoms. Bruner then examines ethical considerations, the relationships among language in use, unconsciousness, and the seemingly irrational aspects of cultural and political history.

The Transcendent One brings a new revelation to all who are created in the image, the Consciousness of God. It brings to Light the seemingly hidden things of darkness. It brings to Light the mystery of what one is within the Consciousness of God, the All in All of Being. The spirit and the letter of the Word are presented here as two parts of the same thing, preparing one for the reconciliation of all things through the Christ Self unto the All in All of Being, the Transcendent One. The Transcendent One brings the many and the one unto the reconciliation. The Transcendent One is revealed to be an infinity of many within the One. No matter where one might go, the Transcendent One is already there, for It is everywhere It is, and everywhere It is not as two parts of the same thing. It is neither here not there as separate places, for It is here, there, everywhere, and nowhere as parts of the same thing. The new revelation is the revelation of what you are, and have been, and forever shall be, the same today, yesterday, and forever within the Consciousness of God.
