Excerpt from Catalogue of Rare Engraved Gems, Ancient Greek, Roman and Other Coins, Amulets, Rosaries and Other of Archaeological Interest: Collected by the Late Mary Anna Palmer Draper of New York City; To Be Sold at Unrestricted Sale at the American Art Galleries, Madison Square South, New York The Greek gem cutters' art was in turn passed to the Romans. The period in which the Greeks were at work before the Romans themselves had mastered the art is known as the Hellenistic or roman epoch. Early in the Roman Imperial days a high degree of excellence was obtained both in cameo and intaglio work. Portraits by such artists as Gnaius (no. Aulus, etc., are admirable.
