Acknowledgment should also be made that my observation of the lives and examples of many who do not profess to be Christian has made me realize the blessings of God's love, and what kind of person I could have been, except for God's hand working in the lives of those who have surrounded me.

Danny Hodges became the senior pastor of a young church fellowship known as Calvary Chapel in St.

Petersburg, Florida, in April of 1984. Three years later when he was introduced to Pastor Chuck Smith and the Calvary Chapel movement, he felt an immediate sense of being at home and was grateful to God for leading him to this network of churches that upheld a simple, biblical philosophy of ministry and well-balanced doctrine.

Calvary Chapel St. Petersburg soon became a fellowship of Calvary Chapel Costa Mesa, and since that time God has steadily grown the ministry from a handful of mostly young single adults to a large church full of families. It has been exciting to see God's Spirit bring many to salvation through Jesus Christ, see lives change and mature in the Lord, see relationships bloom and grow, see ministries evolve and prosper, see a hunger for the Word of God and see a passionate desire to win the lost to Jesus. Pastor Danny and his wife, Wendy, consider it an honor to serve this growing body of believers together with their four children, Tanner, Hayden, Jairus and Audra.

To help readers discover what the Scriptures say about the duty of a deacon, O'Donnell explores the biblical basis for these servants of God, giving relevant application to the works they are to perform.

What does it mean to be a deacon in the black Baptist church today? What personal qualities should a candidate for deacon possess? What does the ministry entail? What relationship should exist between the pastor and deacons? What does Scripture say about the origins of the office of the deacon? How has the historical context of being black and Baptist in America influenced the evolution of that office? How do we fulfill the scriptural purposes of a deacon ministry in our local black Baptist churches today? Rev. Dr. Marvin McMickle explores these issues and more in this practical resource for today's church leaders.

Offers critical definitions about the work of a pastor or elder -- what his job description is and what the limits of his authority are in the context of church government.

This book describes in detail the various Biblical leadership roles in the church and examines how these can be exercised in order to promote individual as well as the corporate growth of the church.

Youth will learn about: 1- Assurance of Salvation 2- Baptism 3- Church and Membership 4-The Word of God (The Bible) 5-Prayer 6- Stewardship 7- Facing Dangers And Problems 8- Knowing What We Believe 9- Church Ordinances: Baptism And The Lord's Supper

This book speaks to the responsibilities of deacons who operate under the anointing of the Holy Spirit, but are subject to the pastor. "The Pentecostal Deacon" will be a one-of-a-kind book in your library. No other book speaks to the unique calling of spirit-filled deacons and deaconesses, nor details the multiplicity of ways pastors can use them in accordance to Biblical teachings. In addition, no single volume of work can better prepare deacons for their role as a servant, while confirming the pastoral role in the selection, training and support of these mighty warriors of God. No longer do Pentecostal, Holiness, Charismatic, and other Pastor-led and spirit-filled churches have to use deacon training manuals that are not reflective of their doctrines.

My book Reigning In Victory will encourage the readers that inspite of issues and challenges they face in life they can still Reign In Victory. It requires a mindset and a determined spirit to make a difference in life. Reigning In Victory does not mean that on this journey of life we will not have troubles, problems, disappointments, trials, persecution and set backs in our lives.

However, inspite of all the issues and challenges that ones life maybe confronted with it is not what happen to you that really matters but what really matters is the way you handle what happen to you. The way we think has a lot to do with the way we live. If you think you can do a thing, then you can do it. Also, if you think you can't do a thing you will eventually talk yourself out of even trying to complete the task. If your thinking is not in line with fulfilling your God given purpose you will most likely settle for existing instead of thriving to be all that God wants you to be and enjoying this abundant life that we have been given. Reigning in Victory will require one to live on purpose to complete the assignments given unto us by God to be world changers and make a difference in the lives of people everywhere. This all begins when one change the way they think and then their whole world around them changes. Learn to see the glass as half full instead of seeing it as half empty. The way you think and your attitude will determine your altitude. This book encourages the reader to do just that. I can do all things through Christ which strengthens me. That is my mindset and I want to help others to change the way they think and Reign In Victory.

A Guidebook for Practical Deacon Ministry Through the Local Church

Dr. Ernestine Battle designed this manual to help identify some of the most basic principles of servant leadership, out of an experience of years as a "participating-observer" in a ministry that did not have a formal training program for its leaders. Every church should have quality people; those who lead, encourage, and direct others to become even greater and more effective Christians. The church needs more women and men who are prepared to lead. This training manual provides extensive research on servant leadership, a curriculum of basic and foundational courses to help develop and grow ministry leaders.

After nineteen years in print and over 200,000 copies sold, Broadman & Holman is publishing an updated edition of Deacons: Servant Models in the Church. Henry Webb deals with every aspect of the roles and offices of deacons in the church, including the deacon's marriage, wife, children, family life, conduct, priorities, and other pertinent aspects of deacons as role models of servant leadership in the church.

How Can Deacons Mobilize Service in the Church? Deacons are essential to a church's health—yet confusion abounds regarding their biblical job description. What's their God-given role in a local congregation and how do they relate to the church's overall mission? In this short book, Matt Smethurst makes the case that deacons are model servants called to meet tangible needs, organize and mobilize acts of service, preserve the unity of the flock, and support the ministry of the elders. Clearing away common misconceptions, Smethurst offers practical guidance for deploying deacons and helping churches to flourish.

What is a church? This can be a difficult question to answer and Christians have offered a variety of perspectives. Gregg Allison thus explores and synthesizes all that Scripture affirms about the new covenant people of God, capturing a full picture of the biblical church. He covers the topics of the church's identity and characteristics; its growth through purity, unity, and discipline; its offices and leadership structures; its ordinances of baptism and the Lord's Supper; and its ministries. Here is a rich approach to ecclesiology consisting of sustained doctrinal reflection and wise, practical application. Part of the Foundations of Evangelical Theology series.

Matthew Bowman explores the world of a neglected group of American Christians: the self-identified liberal evangelicals who began in late nineteenth-century New York to reconcile traditional evangelical spirituality with progressive views on social activism and theological questions. These evangelicals emphasized the importance of supernatural conversion experience, but also argued that scientific advances, new movements in art, and the decline in poverty created by a new industrial economy could facilitate encounters with Christ. The Urban Pulpit chronicles the struggle of liberal evangelicals against conservative Protestants who questioned their theological sincerity and against secular reformers who grew increasingly devoted to the cause of cultural pluralism and increasingly suspicious of evangelicals over the course of the twentieth century. Liberal evangelicals walked a difficult path, facing increasing polarization in twentieth-century American public life; both conservative evangelicals and secular reformers insisted that religion and science were necessarily at odds and that evangelical Christianity was incompatible with cultural diversity. Liberal evangelicals rejected these simple dichotomies, but nonetheless found it increasingly difficult to defend their middle way. Drawing on history, anthropology, and religious studies, Bowman paints a complex portrait of these understudied Christians at work, at worship, and engaged in advocacy in the public square.

Divided opinion on the topic of this book has caused controversy in Baptist history and life. Most Baptist individuals and churches have strongly opposed women deacons. Some Baptist associations have even disfellowshipped churches that have approved women deacons. And women in general have been suppressed by many recent actions of the Southern Baptist Convention, thereby affecting women deacons. However, thousands of Baptist churches include women in their deacon bodies and find that they make invaluable contributions. The book presents arguments on both sides of the topic, but lands squarely in support of women deacons.

This is a training manual and workbook to be used in preparing women in the church for the work of a Deaconess.

In describing the qualities of a church deacon, the Bible also emphasizes the traits of his companion: "Wives, too, must be worthy of respect, not slanderers, self-controlled, faithful in everything" (1 Timothy 3:11). Yet for all the traditional deacon handbooks, less prevalent are those for a deacon's wife. This warmhearted, conversational new book from "Fresh Ideas" syndicated columnist Diana Davis shares stories and insights for deacon wives whether just inaugurated or long experienced. The reader will enjoy tips on how to best encourage her husband's work, the ministry of the pastor and his wife, and other church staff and members. There are also helpful home and family suggestions, self-evaluation forms and checklists, and even a detailed teaching plan to share this wealth of material with other women in the church

Addresses the current exodus of Christians from evangelical churches and argues for a return to historical roots. Inspired, well-trained, and spiritually mature deacons can be a mighty force for the church, and local American churches need their servants to excel in their ministry and service to the Body of Christ now more than ever. Most pastors and deacons in America are sincere in their desire to serve, but many do not receive enough advanced orientation, and even more receive no ongoing training at all. This lack can create much frustration and may even overwhelm deacons and their families as they try to manage the minefields of ministry. Daily Devotions for Deacons, by Russell R. Cook, guides deacons in daily preparation for their enormous and invaluable task and inspires them to become all Christ means for them to be. This guide for deacons offers a year of brief yet deeply spiritual and relevant biblical devotions. For a few moments a day, five days a week, all who desire to live as fully devoted followers of Christ will benefit from Cook's years of teaching and training pastors and deacons across America. By learning the principles and qualities necessary for a strong, effective ministry, and by applying these same qualities of service in everyday life, we begin to fulfill our God-given role and draw ever closer to His presence and His truth.

Almost every church in America has selected and ordained Deacons for service to their congregations. Most of these Deacons have learned their duties by on-the-job experiences. However, many Deacons, even years after their ordination, still ask the question, What am I supposed to do? This book, Descriptive Duties of Deacons, answers that question in clearly definitive ways. You need not feel overwhelmed, unsuited for certain areas of service, or burdened by watching other Deacons in your church and thinking you have to do everything they do. This guidebook shows numerous options for ministry that can fit with your spiritual gifts, talents, training, and personality. These ministry options will help you find your niche in God's work. God does not intend for you to do everything nor to do your duties by yourself. He has placed you in a local church where a Pastor, ministry staff, and numerous volunteers can serve with you. The various duties described here will help you to better understand what both you and your fellow Deacons need to be doing individually and together. Follow this guidebook, and you may never again ask the question, What am I supposed to do as a Deacon?

Now That You're a Deacon

Reverend Lelia Burgess is an Associate Minister of the Galilee Baptist Church located in Suitland, MD, and Washington, DC, one church with two locations where the Reverend Dr. Lloyd T. McGriff is the senior pastor. Accepting her call to ministry, she preached her first public message and subsequently was licensed as an evangelist. Reverend Burgess was licensed as a Minister of the Gospel in December 1993, and ordained to the ministry in October 1998 by the former pastor of Galilee, the late Reverend Dr. Eugene Weathers. At present, Reverend Burgess is a member of the Ministerial Team, the Director of the Prison Ministry, a team member of the Prayer Team Ministry, the Evangelism Team Ministry, and the Ministry for the Sick and Shut-In at Galilee Baptist Church, and a Hospice volunteer. In addition, Reverend Burgess has served as the Director of the Nursing Home and Shelter Ministry for seventeen years. She served as the Chairperson of the Membership Ministry for eighteen years, the Deaconess Ministry for twelve years, as a Sunday School/Church School Teacher for ten years. Reverend Burgess has served as a Vice-Chairperson/member of the Women Ministry. She also has served as a choir member of the E. W. Chorale for sixteen years. Born and raised in Neck, North Carolina, Reverend Burgess moved to the Washington, D.C. metropolitan area after graduating from high school to pursue a business. She completed ministry training in the Elijah Academy of Galilee Baptist Church, being taught by the late Reverend Dr. Eugene founder and instructor. Reverend Burgess is a retiree from the federal government after 33 1/2 years of dedicated service. She is pursuing a Master of Arts Degree in Biblical Studies with a concentration in Pastoral Ministry. An anointed and spirit-filled woman of God, Reverend Burgess has ministered in numerous churches in the metropolitan area. She preached the Word of God for four years every Sunday on WOL 1450 AM radio station. She has preached on the radio in Atlanta, GA, New York City, NY, Her International Radio Broadcasting Ministry has been broadcasted in Africa, North America, South America, Central America, all the Caribbean Islands, and the Middle East. Reverend Burgess is preaching the Word of God on the Glory Network Broadcast Streaming Radio Station on every Friday Night at 7:00 P.M. She has a passion for winning souls for Christ and has a love for all people. She understands and believes that "man does not live by bread alone but by every word that proceeds from the mouth of the Lord" (Luke 4:4). Reverend Burgess is excited to have the opportunity to proclaim the Gospel of Jesus wherever and whenever God provides an opportunity. She is married to Deacon Levine Burgess and they have three daughters, and three sons-in-law, LaTonya (Danny), Lolita (Chris), and (Sean). They have six grandchildren, two granddaughters: Kiara, and Simone, and four grandsons: Chris, Tre, Kevin, and Che. This book comes straight from the heart of a pastor who has had deacons for breakfast, dinner, and supper for as long as he can remember. As a Baptist minister, Dr. Naylor was influenced from childhood by men in this noble office of divine origin. His own twenty-five years in the ministry and his successful work with deacons in many churches, large and small, well qualify him to write this long needed book. Help! I'm a Deacon's Wife provides helpful insights concerning the role of a deacon's wife. Suggestions are offered on managing limited resources, maintaining a healthy marriage, growing spiritually, and carrying out practical ministry with her husband.
