I share with you here. Get ready to throw out many of the things that you thought you knew about success! Let's start at the beginning with a simple truth. Success is hard. Very hard. Very very very very hard. We all know that, once we have had a little bit of experience and are honest with ourselves. We all want to be more successful, but let's face it, sometimes we just don't know how. It's because, as they say, "we don't know what we don't know". So we make the same mistakes over and over again (often without fully realizing it until later). And then we blame ourselves (or others) in regard to why things didn't turn out as we had hoped, or planned. It's this simple: If you want to increase your level of success, read this book.

The key to finding the casques was to match one of 12 paintings to one of 12 poetic verses, solve the resulting riddle, and start digging. Since 1982, only two of the 12 casques have been recovered. The first was located in Grant Park, Chicago, in 1984 by a group of students. The second was unearthed in 2004 in Cleveland by two members of the Quest4Treasure forum.

I Have a Secret - Do I Keep It? is a children's book that gives children an easy way to discern whether or not keeping a secret is safe or if it is harmful. Even the smallest child will be able to learn this simple litmus test. It is told in rhyme, in a catchy Dr. Suess-ish rhythm, but it tells a very real story from one child's perspective - because a child really only knows one perspective - their own. Read this to your children or your classroom or your daycare and lets start empowering children at a young age. Review I loved this book - and the rhyming. It is full of memorable rhymes that kids will remember. It makes it easy for kids to decide if they're being bullied and want some help or if they should keep the fun secret about grandma's present.

"Secret" is a tough word because it is definitely used two ways in this society - and one way it is used victimizes kids. This book aims to end that - and it is well worth sharing with the kids in your life!
