When customers pay their bills, the person in charge receive copies of the payment receipt vouchers. Payment vouchers are documents show that money was received from customers for invoices. They show that the payment was received. The records of payment receipt vouchers are called customer payment histories. By looking at the customer payment history records, the person in charge of sale knows if customers pay their bills on time. Each customer has a credit limit. The credit limit is the most that customer can owe and still buy from

The book's novel approach shows that valuation and accounting are much the same: valuation is actually a matter of accounting for value.
