

Exalting His Word

Exalting Jesus in 1 & 2 Thessalonians is one volume in Christ-Centered Exposition Commentary series. This series affirms that the Bible is a Christ-centered book, containing a unified story of redemptive history of which Jesus is the hero. It’s presented as sermons, divided into chapters that conclude with a “Reflect & Discuss” section, making this series ideal for sermon preparation. It’s not academic but rather presents an easy-reading, practical and friendly commentary. The series is projected to be 48 volumes.

... My house shall be called a house of prayer for all nations. Isaiah 56:7
Mom's TEA CUPP Prayers is an invitation to moms everywhere to sit down each day with Jesus, a Bible, and your favorite morning mug. A mom who spends time with Jesus in prayer will honor the Father, glorify the Son, and, by the power of the Holy Spirit, impact her husband, children, neighbors, and friends. Jennifer Grace calls another generation of moms to the foot of the cross. T = Thanksgiving E = Exalting His Name A = Admitting my sins C = Calling for my life U = Understanding my story P = Promises (Claiming God's) P = Petitions (Pouring out my heart) Jennifer Grace takes everyday examples of being a mom and relates them to God's truth in His Word with this compact prayer card.
My house shall be called a house of prayer for all nations. Isaiah 56:7
Jennifer Grace takes everyday examples of being a mom and relates them to God's truth in His Word with this compact prayer card.
wife, mom, grandma, runner, scrapbooker, prayer warrior, but most of all, God's child. Through the joys and sorrows of life, she finds lessons in faith, weaving them together with God's Word. To God our Savior, Who alone is wise, Be glory and majesty, Dominion and power, Both now and forever. Amen. Jude 25

Exalting His WordWith Life Affirmations from ScriptureExalting His WordRSM PressExalting Jesus in Proverbs&H Publishing Group

Exalting God's Faithfulness

Exalting Jesus in Romans

The Book of Psalms: A Translation with Commentary

Exalting Jesus in 1 & 2 Timothy and Titus

Exalting Jesus in 1 & 2 Kings

A commented new translation of the Book of Psalms seeks to preserve and convey its powerful message and musical rhythms while lending insight into the text's obscurities, in a volume by the acclaimed translator of the Five Books of Moses. 30,000 first printing.

The Word of God is God's Mirror given to you to reveal you to you. If any man will look intently and constantly into God's Word, he or she shall be blessed. The Word of God holds the number one position in all of God's universe, for God has exalted His Word above His name. In these pages, Dr. Mark reveals amazing riches of the Word of God concerning you. The simple but yet profound mysteries of the scriptures will jump at you as you read this book. You will be engulfed in Divine Light as the scriptures are opened to you.

Profound reflections on the cross that help you to meditate on and marvel at the sacrificial love of Jesus. This book can be used as a devotional, especially during Lent and Easter. These profound reflections on the cross from David Mathis, author of The Christmas We Didn't Expect, will help you to meditate on and marvel at Jesus' life, sacrificial death, and spectacular resurrection-enabling you to treasure anew who Jesus is and what he has done. Many of us are so familiar with the Easter story that it becomes easy to miss subtle details and difficult to really enjoy its meaning. This book will help you to pause and marvel at Jesus, whose now-glorified wounds are a sign of his unfailling love and the decisive victory that he has won: "He was pierced for our transgressions, he was crushed for our iniquities; the punishment that brought us peace was on him, and by his wounds we are healed." (Isaiah 53:5) This book can be used as a devotional. The chapters on Holy Week make it especially helpful during the Lent season and at Easter.

Exalting Jesus in Ephesians

Above All Thy Name

Exalting Jesus in Psalms 1-50

Righteousness by Faith

Exalting the Standard of Righteousness

Exalting Jesus in Jeremiah, Lamentations is part of the Christ-Centered Exposition Commentary series. Edited by David Platt, Daniel L. Akin, and Tony Merida, this new commentary series, projected to be 48 volumes, takes a Christ-centered approach to expositing each book of the Bible.

Rather than a verse-by-verse approach, the authors have crafted chapters that explain and apply key passages in their assigned Bible books. Readers will learn to see Christ in all aspects of Scripture, and they will be encouraged by the devotional nature of each exposition presented as sermons and divided into chapters that conclude with a “Reflect & Discuss” section, making this series ideal for small group study, personal devotion, and even sermon preparation. It’s not academic but rather presents an easy reading, practical and friendly commentary. The author of Exalting Jesus in Jeremiah, Lamentations is Steven Smith.

Exalting Jesus in John is part of the Christ-Centered Exposition Commentary series. Edited by David Platt, Daniel L. Akin, and Tony Merida, this new commentary series, projected to be 48 volumes, takes a Christ-centered approach to expositing each book of the Bible. Rather than a verse-by-verse approach, the authors have crafted chapters that explain and apply key passages in their assigned Bible books. Readers will learn to see Christ in all aspects of Scripture, and they will be encouraged by the devotional nature of each exposition presented as sermons and divided into chapters that conclude with a “Reflect & Discuss” section, making this series ideal for small group study, personal devotion, and even sermon preparation. It’s not academic but rather presents an easy reading, practical and friendly commentary. The author of Exalting Jesus in John is Matt Carter and Josh Wredberg.

For most people, to read the Holy Bible cover to cover is quite a daunting task. Exalting in Godas Promises takes the reader on a poetic journey through the pages of the Bible in a way that biblical texts come alive. The words provide an organized thematic approach to Biblical understanding. Exalting in Godas Promises discusses Godas Kingdom, which Christians have awaited since Jesus Christ uttered aThe Lordas Prayers in Matthew 6: 6-9. That Kingdom has deep meaning and vast implications for all mankind. Included, the writer has provided scriptural references for the reader to refer to in his or her own copy of the Bible. In addition to becoming much more familiar with the pages of Godas word, this reading provides a necessary escape from a violent and stress-filled world. It also empowers one to grasp a tangible hope for mankindas future.

Exalting Jesus in the Sermon on the Mount

Rich Wounds

How the Power of the Magnificat Can Transform Us

Exalting Jesus in John

Exalting Jesus in Phillipians

Two crises in Colosse sent visitors to the Apostle Paul. First, an old friend brings news that false teachers are laying down aids and boasting of secret knowledge beyond the gospel. Then, a runaway slave begs Paul to ask his Christian master for mercy. The letters Paul writes to handle these dilemmas remain foundational for understanding Christ and His work in us. This Bible study on the books of Colossians and Philemon examines how Paul exalted Christ and affirmed a truly Christian lifestyle • Personal study between meetings • 11 sessions • Includes study aids and discussion questions

This series affirms that the Bible is a Christ-centered book, containing a unified story of redemptive history of which Jesus is the hero. It’s presented as sermons, divided into chapters that conclude with a “Reflect & Discuss” section, making this series ideal for small group study, personal devotion, and even sermon preparation. It’s not academic but rather presents an easy-reading, practical and friendly commentary. The series is projected to be 48 volumes.

We are the people, like John, are to prepare the way of the Lord; and if we are prepared for the second coming of Christ, we must work with all diligence to prepare other for Christ’s second advent, as did the forerunner of Christ for His first advent, calling me to repentance... We want to life up the standard. Let all the people come up to the high calling of God in Christ Jesus. Let us pray that we hunger and thirst after righteousness; for Jesus says, “Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled.We know that the gates of hell shall not prevail against God’s true church for Christ is the head and Satan is a defeated foe. Yet, he is so subtle! The world is married to the 501 (3) and (8) organized church, its members are absorbed with worldly pursuit and worldly gain causing the love of many to was cold. The organized church is fast becoming the habitation of devils, and the hold of every foul spirit, and a cage of every unclean and hateful bird. The pastors wife’s dress is so short that you have to look up when she sits down. The church has become a fashion show, gluttony and intemperance dethrones reason and logic. What the pastor says out weights a “Thus sayeth the Lord”! Men and women take what they want and leave what they do not want from the word of God, instead of living by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God. True, loyal and righteous Christian do not become discouraged for you are witnessing prophecy coming to past. The lamb like beast of Revelation 13:11 is so to take the stage and plunge this world into a terrible crisis. God too is soon to take the reigns of the Christian gospel into His own hands and work for and with His people, Psalms 119:126.The time has come, in order to preserve your children’s purity and not pervert their perception of the true worship of God, to take them as far as possible from a organized 501 (3) church. Three or four families should join together and have home church. Once a month, three or four of the home church companies should come together to fellowship together, e.g. pray, worship, break bread, etc. We need to pray more, study our bibles more, while we ask for spiritual discernment for the end of all things is at hand.In her endeavor to reach her home, the eagle is often beaten down by the gust to the narrow defiles of the mountains... At last she dashes upward into the blackness, and gives a shrill scream of triumph as she emerges, a moment later, in the calm sunshine above. The darkness and tempest are all below her, and the light of heaven is shining about her. She reaches her loved home in the lofty crag, and is satisfied. It was through darkness that she reached the light. It cost her an effort to this, but she is rewarded in gaining the object which she sought. This is the only case we can pursue as followers of Christ... We have heights of faith to reach, where all his peace and joy in the Holy Spirit...may God bless and keep each of you as we travel this pilgrims progress to the celestial city. Maranatha

Exalting Jesus in Jeremiah, Lamentations

Exalting Jesus in Isaiah

The Word of God and You

Exalting Jesus in Psalms 101-150

With Life Affirmations from Scripture

Edited by David Platt, Daniel L. Akin, and Tony Merida, this new commentary series, projected to be 48 volumes, takes a Christ-centered approach to expositing each book of the Bible. Rather than a verse-by-verse approach, the authors have crafted chapters that explain and apply key passages in their assigned Bible books. Readers will learn to see Christ in all aspects of Scripture, and they will be encouraged by the devotional nature of each exposition. Projected contributors to the series include notable authors such as Russell D. Moore, Al Mohler, Matt Chandler, Francis Chan, Mark Dever, and others.

A Study Guide and a Teacher’s Manual Gospel Principles was written both as a personal study guide and as a teacher’s manual. As you study it, seeking the Spirit of the Lord, you can grow in your understanding and testimony of God the Father, Jesus Christand His Atonement, and the Restoration of the gospel. You can find answers to life’s questions, gain an assurance of your purpose and self-worth, and face personal and family challenges with faith.

Edited by David Platt, Daniel L. Akin, and Tony Merida, this new commentary series, projected to be 48 volumes, takes a Christ-centered approach to expositing each book of the Bible. Rather than a verse-by-verse approach, the authors have crafted chapters that explain and apply key passages in their assigned Bible books. Readers will learn to see Christ in all aspects of Scripture, and they will be encouraged by the devotional nature of each exposition.

Exalted

Thou Hast Magnified Thy Word

The Testimony of Truth Exalted, by the Collected Labours of ... S. F., Etc. Ετιμοκονος Ανοσοκονος, [With a Preface by E. Hookes.]

Exalting in God's Promises

Exalting His Word

Edited by David Platt, Daniel L. Akin, and Tony Merida, this new commentary series, projected to be 48 volumes, takes a Christ-centered approach to expositing each book of the Bible. Rather than a verse-by-verse approach, the authors have crafted chapters that explain and apply key passages in their assigned Bible books. Readers will learn to see Christ in all aspects of Scripture, and they will be encouraged by the devotional nature of each exposition. Projected contributors to the series include notable authors such as Russell D. Moore, Al Mohler, Matt Chandler, Mark Dever, and others.

Exalting Jesus in Song of Songs is one volume in Christ-Centered Exposition Commentary series. This series affirms that the Bible is a Christ-centered book, containing a unified story of redemptive history of which Jesus is the hero. It’s presented as sermons, divided into chapters that conclude with a “Reflect & Discuss” section, making this series ideal for small group study, personal devotion, and even sermon preparation. It’s not academic but rather presents an easy-reading, practical and friendly commentary. The series is projected to be 48 volumes.

Exalting Jesus in 2 Peter and Jude is part of the Christ-Centered Exposition Commentary series. Edited by David Platt, Daniel L. Akin, and Tony Merida, this new commentary series, projected to be 48 volumes, takes a Christ-centered approach to expositing each book of the Bible. Rather than a verse-by-verse approach, the authors have crafted chapters that explain and apply key passages in their assigned Bible books. Readers will learn to see Christ in all aspects of Scripture, and they will be encouraged by the devotional nature of each exposition presented as sermons and divided into chapters that conclude with a “Reflect & Discuss” section, making this series ideal for small group study, personal devotion, and even sermon preparation. It’s not academic but rather presents an easy reading, practical and friendly commentary. The authors of Exalting Jesus in 2 Peter and Jude are Danny Akin and Jim Shaddix

Thou Hast Magnified Thy Word - Abridged Edition

The Countless Treasures of the Life, Death, and Triumph of Jesus

Exalting Jesus in Acts

Gospel Principles

Exalting Jesus in Song of Songs

Exalting Jesus in Romans is part of the Christ-Centered Exposition Commentary series. Edited by David Platt, Daniel L. Akin, and Tony Merida, this commentary series, to include 47 volumes when complete, takes a Christ-centered approach to expositing each book of the Bible. Rather than a verse-by-verse approach, the authors have crafted chapters that explain and apply key passages in their assigned Bible books. Readers will learn to see Christ in all aspects of Scripture, and they will be encouraged by the devotional nature of each exposition presented as sermons and divided into chapters that conclude with a “Reflect & Discuss” section, making this series ideal for small group study, personal devotion, and even sermon preparation. It’s not academic but rather presents an easy reading, practical, and friendly commentary. The CCE series will include 47 volumes when complete. The author of Exalting Jesus in Romans is Tony Merida.

Exalting Jesus in Revelation is part of the Christ-Centered Exposition Commentary series. This series affirms that the Bible is a Christ-centered book, containing a unified story of redemptive history of which Jesus is the hero. It’s presented as sermons, divided into chapters that conclude with a “Reflect & Discuss” section, making this series ideal for small group study, personal devotion, and even sermon preparation. It’s not academic but rather presents an easy-reading, practical and friendly commentary. The series is projected to be 48 volumes.

Though in all things God’s Word is the final authority, our Christian tradition, as inherited from centuries of careful reflection and endeavoring to be true to the teaching of Scripture, can greatly enlighten us. Nowhere is this blend of respectful listening to the wisdom of the past and faithfulness to the Bible more necessary than in our contemporary reformulations of the doctrine of God’s person. Bruce Ware believes that while tradition’s emphasis on God’s metaphysical perfection and His supremacy over the world is correct, we must refine our understanding of the way in which He relates to us. While retaining the deepest concerns of the historic tradition, Ware offers a more rational view of God’s dealings with His children—a view that is reflected in Scripture’s own testimony of Him. Ware then applies this concept of real divine exaltation and real divine-human relationship to the areas of our prayer life, confidence in God and His guidance of us.

Christ Alone Exalted, in the Following Tracts: Entitled, I. Man’s Righteousness No Cause Or Part of His Justification. II. Salvation Only by God’s Grace. III. Salvation Only by Believing. IV. Abraham’s Steps of Faith. V. Justification by Christ Alone. VI. Some Reasons Against Making Use of Marks and Evidences,&c. VII. Some Observations Concerning a Church of Christ. VIII. A Dialogue Between a Preacher of God’s Rightousness, and a Preacher of Inherent Righteousness. IX. A Copy of a Letter Sent to One Under Sentence of Death. X. Truth Defended, and Clear’d from Mistakes and Misrepresentations,&c. XI. A Second Dialogue Between a Preacher of God’s Righteousness, and a Preacher of Inherent Righteousness. XII. The Discovery of the Most Dangerous Dead Faith. Extracted and Written by William Cudworth. [Tracts 1-3 by John Simpson; Tracts, 4, 12, by John Eaton; Tract 5 by Samuel Richardson; Tracts 6-8, 10, 11, by William Cudworth; Tract 9 by Robert Fowler.]

Exalting Jesus in 1 & 2 Thessalonians

Exalting Jesus in Psalms 119

Exalting Jesus in Psalms 101-100

Exalting Jesus in Luke

Bible Study Evangelista Sonja Corbitt, author of Unleashed and Fearless, struggled to understand Marian devotion as a new Catholic. But as the popular speaker and scripture teacher began to break open the Magnificat line by line, she found that Mary’s song was not only something she sang but also something she became—an expression of God’s loving and transforming power in the world. Combining her own story with an invitation to engage the scriptures through personal study and “God prompts,” Corbitt will help readers unlock the treasures contained within Mary’s song to her cousin Elizabeth, revealing a song that speaks to each of us in a unique way, calling us to delight in the power of God to transform us and make us into everything he created us to be so we can revel in the fullness and joy of life in Christ. Taking up each line of Mary’s declaration to Elizabeth in Luke’s Gospel, Corbitt casts new light on the inspired text, revealing how Mary rejoiced in anticipation of bearing the Messiah, glorified God for his power and mercy, foretold how God would transform the world, and praised God’s faithfulness to Abraham and his children. Corbitt proclaims that we can magnify the Lord as Mary did by imitating her with growing maturity and confidence, ourselves becoming a magnificat.

Exalting Jesus in Psalms, Volume 2, Psalms 51-100 is part of the Christ-Centered Exposition Commentary series. Edited by David Platt, Daniel L. Akin, and Tony Merida, this commentary series, to include 47 volumes when complete, takes a Christ-centered approach to expositing each book of the Bible. Rather than a verse-by-verse approach, the authors have crafted chapters that explain and apply key passages in their assigned Bible books. Readers will learn to see Christ in all aspects of Scripture, and they will be encouraged by the devotional nature of each exposition presented as sermons and divided into chapters that conclude with a “Reflect & Discuss” section, making this series ideal for small group study, personal devotion, and even sermon preparation. It’s not academic but rather presents an easy reading, practical and friendly commentary. The author of Exalting Jesus in Psalms is Danny Akin.

Exalting Jesus in Luke is part of the Christ-Centered Exposition Commentary series. Edited by David Platt, Daniel L. Akin, and Tony Merida, this new commentary series, projected to be 48 volumes, takes a Christ-centered approach to expositing each book of the Bible. Rather than a verse-by-verse approach, the authors have crafted chapters that explain and apply key passages in their assigned Bible books. Readers will learn to see Christ in all aspects of Scripture, and they will be encouraged by the devotional nature of each exposition presented as sermons and divided into chapters that conclude with a “Reflect & Discuss” section, making this series ideal for small group study, personal devotion, and even sermon preparation. It’s not academic but rather presents an easy reading, practical and friendly commentary. The author of Exalting Jesus in Luke is Thabiti M. Anyabwile

Exalting Jesus in 2 Peter, Jude

Mom's TEA CUPP Prayers: Praying God's Word

Exalting Jesus in Proverbs

God's Greater Glory

Exalting Jesus in Psalms, Volume 2, Psalms 51-100 is part of the Christ-Centered Exposition Commentary series. Edited by David Platt, Daniel L. Akin, and Tony Merida, this commentary series, to include 47 volumes when complete, takes a Christ-centered approach to expositing each book of the Bible. Rather than a verse-by-verse approach, the authors have crafted chapters that explain and apply key passages in their assigned Bible books. Readers will learn to see Christ in all aspects of Scripture, and they will be encouraged by the devotional nature of each exposition presented as sermons and divided into chapters that conclude with a “Reflect & Discuss” section, making this series ideal for small group study, personal devotion, and even sermon preparation. It’s not academic but rather presents an easy reading, practical and friendly commentary. The authors of Exalting Jesus in Psalms, Volume 2, Psalms 51-100 are Matt Mason, David Platt, and Jim Shaddix.

Edited by David Platt, Daniel L. Akin, and Tony Merida, this new commentary series, projected to be 48 volumes, takes a Christ-centered approach to expositing each book of the Bible. Rather than a verse-by-verse approach, the authors have crafted chapters that explain and apply key passages in their assigned Bible books. Readers will learn to see Christ in all aspects of Scripture, and they will be encouraged by the devotional nature of each exposition. Exalting Jesus in Ephesians is written by Tony Merida.

Can you say with confidence that your faith is based on the infallible Word of God? Were the Scriptures compiled by a messy group of councils and revised by a multitude of scribes? Is it true that there are errors and contradictions in the Bible and its manuscripts? Are there any corrupted copies of Scripture? Do you know for certain that the version of Scripture you read is a copy of God’s preserved Word? The facts and history of the preservation of Scripture are the foundation of our faith upon which depends our eternal destiny. Without His Word, the human race would have no knowledge God. We must have full assurance that we are indeed reading the true and pure Word of God. The Bible’s power, feared by its enemies, precious to those who love its precepts, is the power to transform those who submit to its claims. The written words of Scripture have had a greater influence on this world than any other literary work the planet has ever seen. They have changed the course of nations, and altered history in ways that will only be comprehended in eternity. The Bible is the revelation of God’s love for the human race. It contains the treasures of eternal riches. “In His Word, God has committed to men the knowledge necessary for salvation. The Holy Scriptures are to be accepted as an authoritative, infallible revelation of His will. They are the standard of character, the revealer of doctrines, and the test of experience.” Though every power of hell and demons has been arrayed against this book, “in a most wonderful manner it was preserved uncorrupted through all the ages of darkness. It [bears] not the stamp of man, but the impress of God.” “The Bible, and the Bible alone, is to be our creed... all who bow to this Holy Word will be in harmony. Our own views and ideas must not control our efforts. Man is fallible, but God’s Word is infallible. Instead of wrangling with one another, let men exalt the Lord. Let us meet all opposition as did our Master, saying, “It is written. Let us lift up the banner on which is inscribed, The Bible our rule of faith and discipline.” With demonstrable and rather serious differences in so many current versions of the Bible, how can we be certain what is God’s true and preserved Word? The volume you hold in your hand - through Scripture and history - answers this question. The name of Jesus is the most exalted name in the Universe. “Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name: “That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow...” “And [that] every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ [is] Lord...” Phillipians 2:9-11 Yet, in all the Universe, there is one thing that is exalted above the name of Jesus: “for thou hast magnified thy word above all thy name.” Psalm 138:2. How much reverence should we have for a Word that is exalted above the name of God? The very truthfulness of God himself is staked on the truthfulness of His Word. Compare: KJV Job 19:26 “yet in my flesh shall I see God.” ASV Job 19:26 “then without my flesh shall I see God.” Simple logic demands that two opposite statements cannot both be true. Therefore one must be false. The one that is false cannot be God’s pure, true, unperverted Word. Though God promised to preserve his word, the stern facts of history and the unyielding testimony of Scripture prove that attempts have been made to pervert God’s Word: “ye have perverted the words of the living God.” Jeremiah 23:36 Thus, to fulfill the promise of preservation, the Scripture must contain a way to distinguish between the genuine from the counterfeit: “ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.” John 8:32

Exalting Jesus in Ezekiel

The Exalted God of Scripture and the Christian Faith

Exalting Jesus In James

Exalting Jesus in Revelation

Exalting Jesus in 1,2,3 John

Exalting God’s Faithfulness is written to remind Christians the meaning, importance, and implications of God’s faithfulness. It seeks to sensitize and transform the Christian from living a rather dull, flat, and unappreciative life into thriving in a life of joyful appreciation, exuberance, and jubilation for God’s role in our lives. David said in Psalm 108:5, “Be exalted, O God, above the heavens; let your glory be over all the earth.” He recognized all through his life the importance of praising God in everything. Exalting God’s Faithfulness is really living a life in a way that gives thanks to God for his goodness to us. Chapter 1 introduces readers to God’s faithfulness and explains the meanings and ramifications of the act of exalting God for his faithfulness. Chapter 2 discusses God’s faithfulness as our creator, father, and keeper. God’s expressions of his faithfulness as our provider are discussed in chapter 3. Chapter 4 delves into the expressions of God as our helper and enabler. The expressions of God as our forgiver and healer are discussed in chapter 5. Chapter 6 discusses how we should exalt God. Chapter 7 is designed to introduce non-Christians to the kingdom of God.

Exalting Jesus in the Sermon on the Mount is part of the Christ-Centered Exposition Commentary series. Edited by David Platt, Daniel L. Akin, and Tony Merida, this new commentary series, projected to be 48 volumes, takes a Christ-centered approach to expositing each book of the Bible. Rather than a verse-by-verse approach, the authors have crafted chapters that explain and apply key passages in their assigned Bible books. Readers will learn to see Christ in all aspects of Scripture, and they will be encouraged by the devotional nature of each exposition presented as sermons and divided into chapters that conclude with a “Reflect & Discuss” section, making this series ideal for small group study, personal devotion, and even sermon preparation. It’s not academic but rather presents an easy reading, practical and friendly commentary. The author of Exalting Jesus in the Sermon on the Mount is Daniel L. Akin.

Exalting Jesus in Psalms, Volume 2, Psalms 101-150 is part of the Christ-Centered Exposition Commentary series. Edited by David Platt, Daniel L. Akin, and Tony Merida, this commentary series, to include 47 volumes when complete, takes a Christ-centered approach to expositing each book of the Bible. Rather than a verse-by-verse approach, the authors have crafted chapters that explain and apply key passages in their assigned Bible books. Readers will learn to see Christ in all aspects of Scripture, and they will be encouraged by the devotional nature of each exposition presented as sermons and divided into chapters that conclude with a “Reflect & Discuss” section, making this series ideal for small group study, personal devotion, and even sermon preparation. It’s not academic but rather presents an easy reading, practical, and friendly commentary. The authors of Exalting Jesus in Psalms, Volume 2, Psalms 101-150 are Daniel Akin, Johnny Hunt, and Tony Merida.

Colossians and Philemon