

Factoring The Law And Practice Of Invoice Finance

This volume tests the claim that, as combinations of Civil and Common Law influences, the mixed systems of contract law in Scotland and South Africa have anticipated the content of the Principles of European Contract Law (PECL) concluded and published in 2003 by the unofficial Commission on European Contract Law. Going further, it rigorously explores what the implications of a Europe-wide contract law would be. The current official moves towards a European contract law within the European Union make the critiques of PECL in this volume especially urgent and significant. With a European contract law nearer to reality than ever before, mere policy critiques are no longer enough. This book provides the essential technical and substantive assessments of PECL from the perspective of Scots and South African contract lawyers, and is offered to the European debate without prejudice as to the deeper policy questions. At the same time, this volume will inform Scots and South African lawyers about the substance of international developments in the field, and suggest ways to develop their still vigorous and vital national laws to remain in step with the needs of the present day.

The significant role of credit in obtaining corporate capital means that credit and the treatment of creditors' interests raises distinctive issues in the event of company insolvency. In this book, Kayode Akintola addresses these issues, providing an exceptional in-depth analysis of the principles, policy and practice of creditor treatment in corporate insolvency law.

From a technological standpoint, geography is largely irrelevant. Data flows through the internet without regard for political borders or territories. Services, communication, and interaction can occur online between persons who may be in different countries. Illegal activities, like hacking, cyberespionage, propagating terrorist propaganda, defamation, revenge porn, and illegal marketplaces may all be remotely targeted and accessed from various countries. As such, the internet has created an interesting and complex set of challenges for the concept of jurisdiction and conflicts of law. This title takes a comparative approach covering the EU, UK, US, Germany, and China. Broken into four parts, this book delves into the notion of jurisdiction as it relates to the internet. Part I focuses on the different meanings of the concept of jurisdiction, from a legal and historical perspective, and distinguishing between the different branches of government. It will highlight the challenges created by the internet, including social media and cloud computing. Part II analyses criminal jurisdiction, in regards to both jurisdictions in cybercrime cases and jurisdictional issues relating to criminal investigations (access to the cloud) and enforcement. Part III examines jurisdiction and applicable law in civil and commercial matters, such as e-commerce B2B and B2C contracts, torts typically occurring online, and online defamation and privacy infringement. Finally, Part IV looks at regulatory jurisdiction, examining the power of the executive (whether an arm of government or independent regulator) to apply and enforce national law. It will look at aspects like the provision of online audio-visual media services and online gambling services, both of which are heavily regulated, but which can be easily provided remotely from different jurisdictions. The book concludes by analysing how the concept of jurisdiction should be adapted to ensure the rule of law by nation states and prevent international conflicts between states. This title gives a comprehensive look at the complicated subject of internet jurisdiction, essential for all dealing with jurisdictions in the modern age.

This book addresses core issues of personal property law in Nigeria from a comparative perspective. It offers a detailed account of the laws governing personal property and the different lightweight reforms undertaken mainly through case law before the enactment of the Secured Transactions in Movable Assets Act in 2017. The book draws insights from the United States UCC article 9, being unarguably the first law that introduced the concept of modern secured transactions law, and was influential to many common and civilian law systems in reforming their personal property laws. Given that personal property law is fairly new in Nigeria, and also in Africa in general, the main aim of the book is to provide judges and academic researchers with a rich collection of tested solutions from jurisdictions that have experimented with modern secured transactions law for several decades. The primary and secondary works that were referenced in the book have tracked the different epochal shifts in legal thinking and their significances. This may assist scholars and judges in Nigeria to come up with bespoke interpretations of the Act and solutions to underlying problems on credit and security, that will satisfy the local conditions as opposed to copying the unaltered solutions from the United States and other advanced systems.

This third edition of International Arbitration Law and Practice has been largely enriched by covering international commercial arbitrations, investment treaty arbitrations, arbitrations between public bodies, between states and individuals, the UNCITRAL model law and Iran-US Tribunal proceedings as well as commodity arbitration, online arbitration and sports arbitral proceedings. International Arbitration Law and Practice, 3rd edition elaborates new concepts such as a definition of international arbitration based on procedural law (different from transnational law) and a doctrine (the trunc commun doctrine) to identify the applicable substantive law on disputes between parties belonging to different countries. It further suggests that a law of international arbitration has arisen from the various conventions and laws.

Besides dealing with all the aspects of arbitration on a topic by topic basis, the writer presents a third generation arbitration which builds on analysis of major obstacles to a smooth running arbitration. International Arbitration Law and Practice, 3rd edition is a work that anyone involved in arbitral proceedings will find to be absolutely indispensable.

Welsh Planning Law and Practice provides a comprehensive guide to the sources and structure of Welsh planning law and a route through its complexity. This is not a comparative study, but rather deals with legislation and policy affecting land in Wales, placing them in the context of shared principles and concepts and the case law common to England and Wales. More than an academic exercise, planning is a practical matter affecting important aspects of daily life, and the desirability of public engagement in the planning process is well settled. This book contributes to the promotion of recognition of the body of Welsh planning law, to aid accessibility for all who practise in or who are (or want to be) involved in shaping development in Wales.

This is the seventh edition of the leading work on transnational and comparative commercial, financial, and trade law, covering a wide range of complex topics in the modern law of international commerce and finance. As a guide for students and practitioners it has proven to be unrivalled. The work is divided into three volumes, each of which can be used independently or as part of the complete work. Volume 3 deals with financial products and financial services; the structure and operation of banking and of the capital markets; the role of modern commercial and investment banks; and financial risk, stability and regulation, including the fallout from the 2008 financial crisis and the subsequent regulatory responses in the US and Europe. In sections on products and services, the blockchain and its potential are noted in the payment system, in the custodial holdings of investment securities, and in the derivative markets. A section on regulation critically reviews the need for macro-prudential supervision and an independent macro-prudential supervisor, the role of resolution authorities, the operation of the shadow banking system, and the extraterritorial reach and international recognition of financial regulation. All three volumes may be purchased separately or as part of a single set.

"... presents a very different case: that of a civilized and cultivated cosmopolitan legal scholar, with a keen sense of international commercial and financial practice, with an in-depth grounding in both comparative legal history and comparative law, combined with the ability to transcend conventional English black-letter law description with critical judgment towards institutional wisdom and intellectual fashions." (International and Comparative Law Quarterly)
Volume 5 of this new edition uses the insights developed in Volumes 3 and 4 to deal with financial products and financial services, the structure and operation of banking and of the capital markets, and the role of modern commercial and investment banks. Sections on products and services address the blockchain and its potential in the payment system, in securitisations, in the custodial holdings of investment securities, and in the derivative markets. The complete set in this magisterial work is made up of 6 volumes. Used independently, each volume allows the reader to delve into a particular topic. Alternatively, all volumes can be read together for a comprehensive overview of transnational comparative commercial, financial and trade law.

In recent years, market definition has come under attack as an analytical tool of competition law. Scholars have increasingly questioned its usefulness and feasibility. That criticism comes into sharper relief in dynamic, innovation-driven markets, which do not correspond to the static markets on which the concept of the relevant market was modelled. This book explores that controversy from a comparative legal perspective, taking into account both EU competition and US antitrust law. It examines the manifold ways in which courts and competition authorities in the EU and US have factored innovation-related considerations into market delineation, covering: innovative product markets, product differentiation, future markets, issues going beyond market definition proper – such as innovation competition, innovation markets and potential competition –, intellectual property rights, innovative aftermarkets and multi-sided platforms. This book finds that going forward, the role of market definition in dynamic contexts needs to focus on its function of market characterisation rather than on the assessment of market power.

Whether you are a plaintiff or defense attorney, Tort Remedies in Connecticut will help you develop successful strategies for obtaining and defending against the claimed remedy - such as agency relationships, availability of punitive damages, causation, or increased risk. This book is a comprehensive collection of cases, statutes, regulations and readings focused on the commercial development of new technologies, primarily by start-up and early-stage companies. It defines the technology innovation process as the set of decisions and actions by which an invention is transformed from a laboratory prototype into a commercially viable product or process; and defines the technology innovation period as the time between the point of invention (reduction to practice) and the point of market introduction. Technology Innovation Law and Practice addresses the gap in academic attention paid to the field of technology innovation. The book provides students, faculty and practitioners, both in law and other disciplines, with a single source of in-depth information on the laws that affect the technology innovation process. The book is unique in its interdisciplinary focus, in its emphasis on start-up and early-stage technology companies, and in its combination of instructional and reference materials.

A study of German banking law and practice. The articles are designed to cover the subject and take a systematic approach. They are written by experts from authorities, banks and universities. The idea for the book was born in a conference on German and Chinese banking law.

The Model Rules of Professional Conduct provides an up-to-date resource for information on legal ethics. Federal, state and local courts in all jurisdictions look to the Rules for guidance in solving lawyer malpractice cases, disciplinary actions, disqualification issues, sanctions questions and much more. In this volume, black-letter Rules of Professional Conduct are followed by numbered Comments that explain each Rule's purpose and provide suggestions for its practical application. The Rules will help you identify proper conduct in a variety of given situations, review those instances where discretionary action is possible, and define the nature of the relationship between you and your clients, colleagues and the courts. This casebook provides a comprehensive survey of the primary entertainment law practice areas, including theater, motion pictures, music, and television. Although the book does not attempt to serve as a casebook for copyright, First Amendment, or trademark law, each of these legal doctrines are covered in sufficient fashion that a student without prior exposure to one or more of these doctrinal areas can still participate in an Entertainment Law course. The book addresses both the practical aspects of entertainment and the fundamental underpinnings of entertainment law. The selection of topics is based on what practitioners face, and the materials are selected to build a solid theoretical basis for that topic. This is the only book in the entertainment law field to address and integrate the need to teach the practitioner's issues with the jurisprudential framework necessary to make the course appropriate to the law school curriculum. It is especially useful for adjunct professors teaching the course because of its organization around the relevant issues to the practitioner.

The popularity of his monumental and definitive works have established Shabtai Rosenne as the undisputed expert on the International Court of Justice's law and practice. His broad exchange of correspondence and extensive conversations with members of the Court and its Registrars, as well as with other friends who know the Court and its practices well, and his experience in the Court and in the UN, especially the General Assembly and the Security Council, led him to undertake this major reconstruction of this work in the previous edition. Now divided into several substantive volumes, the work addresses: The Court as one of the principal organs, and as the principal judicial organ of the United Nations. Diplomats and legal advisers who have to deal with matters relating to the Court on a political level, in different organs of the United Nations and in other offices will appreciate the full discussion of the diplomatic, political, and administrative aspects of the Court's affairs. Jurisdiction and the treatment of jurisdictional matters by the Court. This volume also includes the Court's advisory jurisdiction; the advisory work has related to very difficult legal issues in matters of major political import. The Court's procedure. All of these arenas have undergone significant recent changes. The work's practical features include the English text of the Charter of the United Nations, the Statute of the Court, the Practice Directions, and the 1978 Rules of the Court, together with a full set of indexes. The Fourth Edition (updated until 31 December 2005) of The Law and Practice of the International Court is an essential component of all international law libraries and an indispensable work for those practicing in the field, all of whom will appreciate access to the most recent work on the Court from this expert author. This title is heavily annotated with over 3,000 case citations and dozens of practice tips and provides techniques, laws, and forms to improve your effectiveness and efficiency in everything from client preparation through entry of evidence to closing argument,

This edition keeps you up-to-date with 2 revamped chapters, statutory and rule changes, and hundreds of new cases updating all 24 chapters. Revamped chapters: Chapter 8 Permanent Disability: has been updated and reorganized to present the material in a more logical way. Much of the text has been completely re-written to enhance clarity. The discussion of liens and related topics previously covered in various chapters has been revised and consolidated in Chapter 10 Liens and Medical-Legal Cost Petitions. Other new and updated material: Reforms Enacted in 2018 are summarized. § 1:55 Fair Labor Standards Act: Plaintiff had valid FLSA cause of action when the plaintiff sued his employer in state court and employer ' s attorney planned for ICE to take him into custody at a deposition and deport him. § 2:220 Exclusion for National Guard Service: Applicant was ineligible for workers ' compensation benefits for psychiatric injury arising out of a sexual assault that occurred while training with the California Army National Guard. § 2:59 Aggravation or Exacerbation: A second injury that causes no additional temporary or permanent disability is likely an exacerbation. § 4:41 Peace Officer and Firefighter Cancer Presumption: Can defendant ' s failure to produce HARP documents create an adverse inference? § 4:61 Anti-Attribution Clauses: Appeals Board barred defendant from rebutting industrial causation where applicant contracted a blood-borne pathogen from a prior surgical scar and diverticulitis. § 4:62 MTUS: Applicant ' s right to challenge diagnosis or treatment with second and third opinions versus defendant ' s right to control treatment through utilization review. § 9:60 Resubmission to UR and the 12-Month Rule: Are the worker and treating doctor bound by the 12-month rule where there has been a misunderstanding of the medical facts? § 9:61.2 No Medical/Legal or Judicial Review of UR Denial: Court of Appeal cases reject arguments that the UR / IMR process is unconstitutional. § 9:63 Failure to Pay TD: WCJ did not err in ordering defendant to pay 13 years of temporary disability plus penalties where defendant failed to petition for termination of temporary disability. § 12:02 Safety Order Violations: Employer guilty of serious and willful misconduct for failing to utilize a " tag line " on a steel beam. § 12:11 Supplemental Job Displacement Vouchers: Applicant was not entitled to a second LC § 5814 penalty for delay in providing a supplemental job displacement voucher. § 12:117 Officers/Owners as Employees: LC § 3352(a)(16)(A) provides an exception from the definition of an employee for certain officers and members of the board of directors of quasi-public or private corporations. § 13:245 Settlement of One Part of Body Does Not Preclude Claim to Another: Applicant ' s claim for cumulative injury to his brain during his professional football career was not barred by a Compromise and Release Agreement settling an earlier claim of cumulative injury to other body parts. § 15:50 Withdrawal Requests before Reconsideration Deadline Has Passed: Board finds no mutual mistake when defendant listed the wrong date of death which affected the amount of the death benefit payable to applicant. § 15:102 Setting Aside Stipulated Awards: Board returns several cases to trial level for further hearings on whether mistake was mutual or unilateral. Board finds no good cause to set aside stipulations for unilateral mistake. § 15:135 Non-attorney Representatives: Lien for fees filed by a non-attorney representative lien claimant was precluded by LC § 4903(a), which does not allow fees for non-attorney representatives. § 17:04 Attorney Sanctions: Sanctions for failure to appear ( § 17:22); inappropriate language and misrepresentations ( § 17:123), and failure to return the client ' s file ( § 17:131) Petition to Reduce Disability: Failure to file a timely petition to reduce permanent disability did not preclude WCJ from re-rating applicant ' s current level of disability with regard to petition to re-open for new and further disability. § 18:116 IMR: Timeframes set forth in LC § 4610.6(d) and ADR § 9792.10.5(a)(1) with respect to the 45 days required for IMR to issue its decision are directory and not mandatory. § 19:13 IMR: First District Court of Appeal affirms Board ' s decision denying the applicant ' s petition for the Board to order its IMR organization to disclose identities of first and second independent medical reviewers. Disqualification for Cause: Allegations of bias without sufficient detail will generally not support disqualification. § 21:03 Permanent and Stationary Reports: One panel concludes that a final permanent and stationary report by the primary treating physician is not required so long as there has been an evaluation by a qualified medical evaluator addressing permanent disability. § 21:06 Right to Testify: WCJ did not err in allowing applicant, who had been deported to Mexico, to testify at trial via a cell phone using the FaceTime application. § 21:112 Record of Proceedings: In several cases, the Board reiterates the importance of creating a record including the identification of issues for determination to afford the parties due process. § 21:190 Newly-Discovered Evidence: Board grants reconsideration based on newly discovered evidence finding that WCJ had determined the applicant ' s credibility based on a misleading drug testing report and the mistaken belief that the applicant was not taking his prescribed pain medications. § 23:23
