Written by Dr. Stacy Dean, this book satisfies the overwhelming demands of today's classroom teacher. Dr. Dean has developed a lesson plan book that guides teachers to plan instruction more effectively in order to meet the needs of diverse learners. Based on Universal Design for Learning (UDL), this valuable framework will assist teachers in creating accessible classrooms. Additionally, it addresses standards-based education and scientifically based instruction in an era of accountability, including the use of assistive technology. With a no-fail format for planning instruction and a plethora of tips and resources, teachers of diverse populations (general, special education, mixed ability, at-risk, ELL) finally have one document that incorporates all of the necessary guidelines for effective planning and teaching.

Improve Reading Comprehension While Learning Interesting Historical Facts! This book features high-interest, "on this date in history" stories for the month of December. There is an historical nonfiction short story for each day of the month. Reading and Interest Level The stories were written at an approximate reading level of grades 3-4. In some cases, proper names of people, places, and events, as well as other necessary descriptive vocabulary, may drive the reading level up a bit. The interest level is aimed at students in grades 5 and up who may not be reading at grade level. High-Interest Stories The topics chosen are not necessarily the most important thing to have happened on a particular date. The variety of people, places, and events highlighted in each story were chosen to appeal to a wide range of interests. Students will learn a variety of historical facts while improving their reading and comprehension skills. Skill-Specific Lessons Each story is followed by 8 skill-specific comprehension questions. Question formats include multiple-choice, fill-in-the-blank, and writing complete sentences. Skills focus on: main idea, facts, locating the answer, vocabulary, sequence, comparison, cause and effect, fact or opinion, conclusion, and inference. Includes: 68 Pages Answer Key

Teacher Resource Manual

A six-level four-skills, standards-based, integrated-skills series that empowers students to achieve their academic and career goals.

Key Topics is a short, easy-to-read text that provides basic information about twelve key topics in public health, such as diabetes, cancer, smoking and teenage pregnancy, and how prevention and health promotion should be tackled at community and one-to-one levels. The twelve topics are the 'must-dos' of public health action. They have been selected because they are those addressed in current national public health strategies such as Saving Lives: our healthier nation, and comparable strategies in Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland. Many are the subject of National Service Frameworks and other national policies and plans; they are often accompanied by targets which health workers are expected to meet. Accessible and useful, in clear plain English. Provides a foundation for further study, planning a work programme, or planning a strategy to meet targets. Practical focus: on health inequalities and how to tackle them, and on help for practitioners who work at a community and one-to-one level. Explicit links to national current public health policy and targets. Reflects recommendations based on best practice and evidence of effectiveness. Focuses on a topic framework (except for the last two chapters) in contrast to other frameworks for health promotion and public health. Attractive layout making full use of bullet points and boxes. Simple line diagrams or tables to illustrate each chapter.

Designed for use in business and economics courses, these lessons help students develop the attitudes and skills of successful entrepreneurs while expanding their understanding of how our economy works.
