Depuis que le programme de commémoration historique a été inauguré par le gouvernement de l'Ontario en 1956, plus de 1 000 plaques ont été érigées d'un bout à l'autre de la province. La variété des sujets commémorés est dominante, qu'il s'agisse de ruées vers les mines du nord de l'Ontario ou de l'invention de la vis à tête creuse ... de Harold Innis ou de Stephen Leacock ... de l'épidémie de typhus de 1847 ou de la découverte de l'insuline. La culture populaire est également bien représentée: "Beautiful Joe" commémore un roman célèbre dans le monde entier racontant l'histoire d'un chien ; "When You and I Were Young, Maggie" chante une ballade romantique très en vogue ; "Jumbo" marque l'emplacement où est mort un éléphant de cirque très aimé. L'histoire de l'Ontario, tout comme sa géographie et ses habitants, est vaste et variée. Ce guide peut donc être utile, que l'on circule sur l'autoroute, se promène à la campagne ou flâne dans son propre quartier. Il reste encore tant à découvrir.

Mémoires Concernant Christine Reine de Suede, le Corbusier: "La Roche, when one owns such a splendid art collection as yours, one must construct a house that does it honour" - La Roche: "Very well then, build this house for me." This was the genesis of the Villa La Roche (1923-1925), a brilliant synthesis of residence and private gallery, as recounted by the Swiss banker and collector of Cubist art, Raoul la Roche. The architecture and the liberty of expression in his use of colour, light and spatial organisation which he discovered during the final stages of this project inaugurated his rise to one of the giants of 20th century architecture. This guide leads the reader through both the Villa La Roche and the attached Villa Jeanneret, which houses the Fondation Le Corbusier.

Le Guide du bois, de la menuiserie et de l'ébénisterie est à ce jour l'ouvrage le plus complet dans ce domaine. Le choix de la matière première étant capital, les principaux bois résineux et feuillus sont décrits dès le début avec leurs utilisations, leur résistance, leur couleur et leur texture. Les panneaux dérivés du bois sont également abordés. Quelle que soit la tâche à accomplir, une boîte à outils bien remplie est indispensable. Ce livre offre une présentation incomparable de chaque type d'outil : du simple rabot à la défonceuse et de la scie japonaise aux combinées, tous sont minutieusement décrits afin d'aider le débutant, d'informer l'acheteur et d'assister le menuisier expérimenté dans l'organisation de son atelier. Mais les outils ne servent à rien sans idées... Cet ouvrage vous propose de suivre toutes les étapes de la réalisation d'un objet, du dessin à l'échelle aux finitions. Des créations de designers, traditionnelles et modernes, fournissent une mine d'idées et vous incitent à développer votre propre style. La menuiserie exige une grande variété de talents et la maîtrise de nombreuses techniques. Ainsi, rien n'est plus important que la réalisation des assemblages. C'est pourquoi cet ouvrage leur consacre tout un chapitre. Chaque assemblage est décrit pas à pas et illustré de photographies et de dessins. En outre, qu'il s'agisse de sculpture, de placage, de marqueterie, de cintrage ou de finitions, chacune de ces techniques est exposée en détail afin d'en faciliter la maîtrise. Pour finir, le choix des colles et de la quincaillerie (fermetures, charnières, poignées) vous permettra de terminer vos réalisations.

Structural Analysis of Historical Constructions. Anamnesis, diagnosis, therapy, controls contains the papers presented at the 10th International Conference on Structural Analysis of Historical Constructions (SAHC2016, Leuven, Belgium, 13–15 September 2016). The main theme of the book is “Anamnesis, Diagnosis, Therapy, Controls”, which emphasizes the importance of all steps of a restoration process in order to obtain a thorough understanding of the structural behaviour of built cultural heritage. The contributions cover every aspect of the structural analysis of historical constructions, such as material characterization, structural modelling, static and dynamic monitoring, non-destructive techniques for on-site investigation, seismic behaviour, rehabilitation, traditional and innovative repair techniques, and case studies. A special focus has been put on six specific themes: - Innovation and heritage - Preventive conservation - Computational strategies for heritage structures - Sustainable strengthening of masonry with composites - Values and sustainability, and - Subsoil interaction The knowledge, insights and ideas in Structural Analysis of Historical Constructions. Anamnesis, diagnosis, therapy, controls make this book of abstracts and the corresponding, digital full-colour conference proceedings containing the full papers must-have literature for researchers and practitioners involved in the structural analysis of historical constructions.

Kathleen Kete's wise and witty examination of petkeeping in nineteenth-century Paris provides a unique window through which to view the lives of ordinary French people. She demonstrates how that cliché of modern life, the family dog, reveals the tensions that modernity created for the Parisian bourgeoisie. Kete's study draws on a range of literary and archival sources, from dog-care books to veterinarians's records to Dumas's musings on his cat. The fad for aquariums, attitudes toward vivisection, the dread of rabies, the development of dog breeding—all are shown to reflect the ways middle-class people thought about their lives. Petkeeping, says Kete, was a way to imagine a better, more manageable version of the world—it relieved the pressures of contemporary life and improvised solutions to the intractable mesh that was post-Enlightenment France. The faithful, affectionate family dog became a counterpoint to the isolation of individualism and lack of community in urban life. By century's end, however, animals no longer represented the human condition with such potency, and even the irascible, autonomous cat had been rehabilitated into a creature of fidelity and affection. Full of fascinating details, this innovative book will contribute to the way we understand culture and the creation of class. Archaeological heritage can be disputed, especially where it is important to religions and their practitioners. While the destruction of archaeological sites in war – often due to religious fervour – is frequently making the headlines, apparently lesser disputes about local heritage sites go unreported. This book focuses on these lesser, but much more frequent, potential conflicts between archaeological heritage management and conservation on the one hand, and practitioners of religious beliefs who use archaeological heritage in their practice on the other. By exploring case studies from Austria, the Czech Republic, Estonia, France, Norway, Romania, Russia, Spain, Sweden and Wales, this book examines the interaction between spiritual practice and monuments conservation. This book will be of great interest to heritage professionals, archaeologists, historians, conservationists and religious practitioners alike, through its exploration of various kinds of interactions between these different heritage communities and their interests in archaeology.
