Each individual Defining Moments ebook is a fascinating look at the remarkable ways in which God has used an ordinary person to change history. But it is about more than history alone—it illuminates the present and unveils the future. Prophetic in nature, it reveals how God wants to work in each of our lives to fulfill His purposes—today, tomorrow, and in the years to come. The stories in the Defining Moments collection of God-encounters carry a prophetic anointing for all who have ears to hear. Author Bill Johnson highlights the significant traits and contributions of many well-known revival leaders, including John Wesley, Charles Finney, Dwight L. Moody, Maria Woodworth-Etter, Carrie Judd Montgomery, Smith Wigglesworth, John G. Lake, Evan Roberts, Rees Howells, Aimee Semple McPherson, Kathryn Kuhlman, Randy Clark, and Heidi Baker. He explains the impact these leaders can have on us today as we respond to the life-changing truths revealed through their life stories. There is power in knowing the testimonies of men and women who experienced God in a defining moment and said yes to His unique call on their lives. It is a power that inspires us to hunger for God in such a way that we, too, will have an encounter with Him that launches us into the world of the "impossible," enabling us to fulfill a greater measure of our destiny. Read this ebook with a sense of readiness, and watch what happens.

Kathryn Kuhlman helped to shape a generation of Pentecostal/Charismatic theology and practice by reintroducing a depth of spirituality which harkened back to the teachings of the mystics. She introduced the concept of spiritual silence to a generation of Sawdust Trail Pentecostals known for their exuberant and lively worship services, and she popularized the experience of being slain in the Spirit. But her most notable innovation resulted from discarding healing lines and cards together with a healing theology based upon the faith of the adherents. Instead, she invited pilgrims into a transcendent experience of the manifest presence of the Holy Spirit, which rested upon a foundation of love. It is those miracles, and the way those miracles took place, or the method or praxis, that became her greatest contributions. The methodology she used and the theological basis for it are some of the most interesting and poignant aspects of her incredible life and yet what is least understood. Many have attempted to mimic her methods and to adopt her style, but few, if any, have fully understood or appreciated the theological and practical leap she made when she entered into a new realm of spiritual expression. It is this hidden manna that this book seeks to uncover.

Turn the Pulpit Loose features the lives and words of eighteen women evangelists including Sojourner Truth and Evangeline Booth, and lesser-known figures such as Jarena Lee (an African Methodist from the early 1800s) and Uldine Utley (a child evangelist in the early 1900s) who helped to shape American religious life from the nation's infancy to the present. Highlighting substantial primary sources - sermons, articles, diaries, letters, speeches, and autobiographies - Priscilla Pope-Levison weaves together fascinating narratives of each woman's life: her conversion and calling to preach, her primary evangelistic method, and her reflections about women in general. This anthology, complete with photographs of each evangelist, is an indispensable resource for a wide range of academic fields, including religion, history, women's studies, and literature.

A smart, powerful, charismatic preacher brought back to life On October 15, 1974, Johnny Carson welcomed his next guest on The Tonight Show with these words: "I imagine there are very few people who are not aware of Kathryn Kuhlman. She probably, along with Billy Graham, is one of the best-known ministers or preachers in the country." But while many people today recognize Billy Graham, not many remember Kathryn Kuhlman (1907-1976), who preached faith and miracles to countless people over the fifty-five years of her ministry and became one of the most important figures in the rise of charismatic Christianity. In The Miracle Lady Amy Collier Artman tells the story of Kuhlman's life and, in the process, relates the larger story of charismatic Christianity, particularly how it moved from the fringes of American society to the mainstream. Tracing her remarkable career as a media-savvy preacher and fleshing out her unconventional character, Artman also shows how Kuhlman skillfully navigated the oppressive structures, rules, and landmines that surrounded female religious leaders in her conservative circles.

Examines how popular American religious leaders navigate problems of race and gender in society

Roberts Liardon chronicles the lives and legacies of men and women who were empowered by the Holy Spirit to bring worldwide revivals.

"Don't go to that church across town where that woman is preaching or you will go to hell!" I could not help but laugh when two children told me what one of their teachers said. It was funny because it was absurd, but it was completely inaccurate. Yes, I am a woman, and I am a preacher. I cannot help it. Take it up with God, He did it! My husband says it is in my DNA. Just look at my eleventh great grandfather through my grandfather, Alonzo Yancey's line. His name was Alexander Leighton, a Scottish medical doctor and Puritan preacher. He was best known for his 1630 pamphlet that attacked the Anglican Church, and which led to his torture by King Charles I in the Star Chamber. I am thankful God did not let me know about the stigma of "women in ministry." It was many years later I found out there were a few unbelievers. LOL! I grew up under the ministries of Maria Woodworth Etter, the healing evangelist Kathryn Kuhlman, faith healer and evangelist Aimee Semple McPherson (founder of Four Square), and I even had a woman as my pastor. I never heard a sermon for or against women in ministry. They just did what they did. They made us laugh, cry, pray, learn, get closer to God and throw the lifeline out for others. Daughter of the Sanctuary was first published in 1984. In this revised edition, I have added approximately nine chapters and included a few pictures. This is the story of my life as a woman evangelist.

Hank Hanegraaff documents the danger of looking for God in all the wrong places and goes behind the scenes into the wildly popular and bizarre world of contemporary revivalism. Hanegraaff masterfully exposes the stark contrast between these deeds of the flesh and a genuine work of the Spirit by contrasting modern "revivals" with the scriptural examples of God's movement among His people. The pages of Scripture are filled with the miraculous and the powerful manifestation of God. The Master's Healing Presence Bible will provide people with a firm foundation of biblical truth regarding the Holy Spirit, but also Healing, Prayer, the Presence of God and Faith--all integral aspects of relationship with Him. In addition to articles by Pastor Benny Hinn and other leaders who ministered in the anointing of the Holy Spirit, the reader will find verses and passages related to these five key themes highlighted by the easy to navigate color-coded system throughout the Bible text. The Contributors: This Bible will be a living illustration of the work of the Holy Spirit through the ages and through a variety of history's most influential teachers, preachers, ministers and healing evangelists, such as Kathryn Kuhlman, Maria Woodworth Etter, R.A. Torrey, Benny Hinn, Andrew Murray, F.F. Bosworth, Aimee Semple McPherson, E.M. Bounds, Madame Guyon, Charles Finney, John Wesley, Charles Spurgeon, John G. Lake, Smith Wigglesworth, Catherine and William Booth, D.L. Moody, George Whitefield, and others.

Without knowing the Holy Spirit's work in history, we cannot possibly understand what He is doing today, much less prepare for what He will do. In this third and final installment, the reader will learn how Charles Parham founded the modern Pentecostal baptism with speaking in tongues, how Evan Roberts gained worldwide attention through the 1904-05 Welsh revival, and how William Seymour spearheaded an international Pentecostal movement from Azusa Street in Los Angeles in 1906. The reader will learn how Pentecostalism spawned new denominations, national and international ministries, global renewal movements, and inspired innovators to take modern revivalism to a whole new level. Then when Pentecostalism penetrated American Middle-class Protestantism, many observers began speaking of a "third force" in Christianity. Meanwhile, revolutionary changes in the Catholic Church opened the door for the Catholic Charismatic Renewal. Then, just as the charismatic movement was beginning to subside in America, it went global, as charismatic mega churches, Bible schools, and television networks took the message of renewal to the world. The twenty-first century has witnessed a dramatic shift in Christianity to the Southern Hemisphere fueled, in part, by the global rise of Pentecostalism, with many new movements on the horizon.

Messages delivered during healing meetings In 1915, Aimee Semple McPherson began traveling around the United States, holding tent revivals, with some crowds reaching well over thirty thousand people. The tent revivals of this vivacious and spirited speaker would last weeks in any given city across the country. She used a brass band, choirs, and props of all sorts in her sermons. During McPherson's ministry, tens of thousands of people were healed when she prayed for them, but she herself took no credit for the healings, instead giving full credit to God. She insisted that divine healing was not found in the emergency room, the world of entertainment, or the scientist's laboratory; it was a church sacrament, accessible by faith and devotion alone. Divine Healing Sermons is a collection of the messages McPherson preached during her amazing ministry. They remain as powerful and accessible today as they were a century ago.

How Believers Can Experience God's Presence Every Day It's easy to feel close to God while worshiping in church, raising our voices and our hearts with other believers as his presence permeates the atmosphere. Unfortunately, for many Christians, this is the only place they experience God's presence. But the Sunday morning experience shouldn't be the exception; it should be the norm. With wisdom and insights gained from years as a pastor and worship leader, John Belt has helped thousands of believers overcome seasons of spiritual dryness and encounter God's presence every day--and he can help you do the same. Full of inspiring stories and practical tools, this book outlines simple steps to experiencing God personally, reveals potential roadblocks, and gives you the keys to overcoming them. Here is the secret to experiencing God's presence and living victoriously and abundantly every single day.

For Such a Time as This is the meticulously researched, tenderly written biography of the legendary Maria Woodworth-Etter, a woman before her time, who preached of repentance, salvation, holiness, healing, and the baptism of the Holy Spirit. Her success inspired Aimee Semple McPherson and paved the way for Kathryn Kuhlman, Marilyn Hickey, and Joyce Meyer. Historian Grant Wacker said of her, "No one commanded greater awe in the Pentecostal circles." Carl Brumback described her as "looking just like your grandmother, but who exercised tremendous spiritual authority over sin, disease, and demons." But she was also very human, as flawed and fragile as we all are. Warner strikes a delicate balance for the reader between revealing the woman and portraying her power. A must-read for every spirit-filled Christian.

Noble women of the Bible also functioned in God's service in one capacity or another. This is what 'ministry' is - serving the Lord. This book looks at all the notable women of the Bible and how God used them. What about the fivefold ministry (Ephesians 4:11-13)? Can women serve the Lord as evangelists, teachers or pastors? What's the Bible say? Why can't women serve in God's kingdom and be ministers? After all, were Aimee Semple McPherson and Kathryn Kuhlman in gross sin by serving as healing evangelists, reaching millions? Obviously not. This topic is important because there are sincere believers in the body of Christ who question the legitimacy of women in ministry and base their disapproval (or agnosticism) on a couple verses in the New Testament. "Women in Ministry" starts with what theologians call the 'Genesis curse,' which is where some sincere believers get the idea that God ordained men to "rule over" women. Is this so? Can a CURSE be a blessing or a moral command, a law? Find out what the Holy Scriptures REALLY teach on this vital subject

Kathryn Kuhlman was a woman worth knowing. Wherever she went, both miracles and controversy followed. She mesmerized her audiences, who watched as cripples skipped across platforms and men and women fell over "under the power of the Spirit." Here is the engaging, true story, complete with photos, of this elusive, enigmatic, and energetic woman who would stop at nothing in her tenacious struggle to serve God and respond to his call. .

The Quest for Revival

Nearly two decades ago Hank Hanegraaff 's award-winning Christianity in Crisis alerted the world to the dangers of a cultic movement within Christianity that threatened to undermine the very foundation of biblical faith. But in the 21st century, there are new dangers—new teachers who threaten to do more damage than the last. These are not obscure teachers that Hanegraaff unmask. We know their names. We have seen their faces, sat in their churches, and heard them shamelessly preach and promote the false pretexts of a give-to-get gospel. They are virtual rock stars who command the attention of presidential candidates and media moguls. Through make-believe miracles, urban legends, counterfeit Christs, and twisted theological reasoning, they peddle an occult brand of metaphysics that continues to shipwreck the faith of millions around the globe:

“ God cannot do anything in this earthly realm unless we give Him permission. ” “ Keep saying it— ‘ I have equality with God ’ —talk yourself into it. ” “ Being poor is a sin. ” “ The Jews were not rejecting Jesus as Messiah; it was Jesus who was refusing to be the Messiah to the Jews! ” “ You create your own world the same way God creates His. He speaks, and things happen; you speak, and they happen. ” Christianity in Crisis: 21st Century exposes darkness to light, pointing us back to a Christianity centered in Christ. From the Preface: “ Having lost the ability to think biblically, postmodern Christians are being transformed from cultural change agents and initiators into cultural conformists and imitators. Pop culture beckons, and postmodern Christians have taken the bait. As a result, the biblical model of faith has given way to an increasingly bizarre array of fads and formulas. ”

Pullum accounts for the persuasive appeals of some of the most popular American healing evangelists of this century and establishes a rhetorical genre of faith healing discourse. For each, he discusses their background, the nature of the audiences to whom they preached, and why they were so successful. Pullum concludes by drawing together the major rhetorical features of faith-healing discourse.

Arise and Shine outlines the positive roles women can play in the family, the church, and society at large. Mulu Deboch looks at some of the negative stereotypes about women, and considers whether they have any merit. She also discusses the current plight women face as they disproportionately bear the burden of poverty, especially in situations where girls are not afforded the opportunity to go to school. Reviewing current issues for women in light of a biblical perspective, Deboch argues that women are the pillars of society. Finally, she looks at some of the great women of history and the Bible, women who could serve as inspiration for us today.

Vicki is a compelling story of a woman used mightily in the gifts of healing and how her ministry was brought to an abrupt end because of ‘one wrong choice.’” —Debra George, Houston, Texas “Frieda White is an experienced, dynamic Bible teacher under a mandate from God to help prepare and encourage both leaders and believers to follow the leading of the Holy Spirit.” —Sandy Trice, Founding Pastor, Maranatha Church, Mont Belieu, Texas
