This DVD focuses directly on medical assisting skills and demonstrates to students how to correctly perform these skills. The DVD uses a host medical assistant who introduces each skill and narrates as each procedure is being performed, pointing out rationales and important information. Split screens show close-ups and multiple angles as steps are being performed. On-screen text reinforces key information as the user sees the procedures being performed.

Expanded to include detailed information on pharmacologic and non-pharmacologic treatment, the Handbook of Sleep Medicine continues to offer a concise overview of the field for trainees and practitioners in the many disciplines that deal with sleep disorders. Chapters provide a broad introduction to sleep disturbances and associated comorbidities and discuss the major sleep disorders in terms of epidemiology, diagnostic criteria, differential diagnosis, assessment tools, management, and follow-up. Of special value are algorithms that provide a logical approach to evaluating sleep-related complaints. All chapters adhere to the new International Classification of Sleep Disorders (ICSD-2), which is outlined in an appendix with ICD-9 codes.

This thoroughly updated Second Edition of Clinical Laboratory Medicine provides the most complete, current, and clinically oriented information in the field. The text features over 70 chapters—seven new to this edition, including medical laboratory ethics, point-of-care testing, bone marrow transplantation, and specimen testing—providing comprehensive coverage of contemporary laboratory medicine. Sections on molecular diagnostics, cytogenetics, and laboratory management plus the emphasis on interpretation and clinical significance of laboratory tests (why a test or series of tests is being done and what the results mean for the patient) make this a valuable resource for practicing pathologists, residents, fellows, and laboratorians. Includes over 800 illustrations, 353 in full color and 270 new to this edition. Includes a Self-Assessment and Review book.

Lippincott Williams & Wilkins' Administrative Medical Assisting, Second Edition teaches students the theory and skills to become effective medical office assistants. The text and ancillary resources address all the required administrative competencies for CAAHEP and ABHES program accreditation. The book includes critical thinking questions and is written for maximum readability, with a full-color layout, over 100 illustrations, and boxes to highlight key points. A bound-in CD-ROM and a companion Website include CMA/RMA exam preparation questions, an English-to-Spanish audio glossary, a clinical simulation, administrative skill video clips, competency evaluation forms, and worksheets for practice. A Skills DVD with demonstrations of the most important medical assisting skills is available separately. An Instructor's Resource CD-ROM and online instructor resources will be available gratis upon adoption of the text.

This medical assisting certification exam review book was primarily designed to prepare the medical assisting candidate to successfully pass a national medical assisting certification examination. The authors who have years of experience working in health care education struggled to find a product that was up to date, comprehensive yet concise and engaging. They also looked for a book that helped the student with study strategies, a mechanism to identify their strengths and weaknesses and develop a realistic study plan. Unable to find a book that met these needs, the authors wrote the LWW Medical Assisting Exam Review for CMA and RMA Certification. This text incorporates all those features in a "Keep it Simple Yet Effective" approach that includes humor and motivational strategies. It also offers valuable advice for organizing and maintaining an effective study group.

This Fourth Edition of Medical Assisting Exam Review for CMA, RMA & CMAS Certification focuses on the critical most current components of the MA and MAS curricula, making it an indispensable tool for recent graduates, practicing medical assistants, medical administrative specialists and medical administrative assistants preparing to sit for any recognized national certification exams.
