Do you dream of being your own boss? Do you crave the freedom of the open road? Do you have a passion for logistics? Starting an owner-operator freight trucking company is for you! In my book, Owner Operator Trucking Business Startup, I will show you how to start a freight trucking company. When you own and operate a trucking business, you can experience the freedom to set your schedule, experience the thrill of the open road, and be your own boss. It's a win-win! Even if you have no experience driving or working in the trucking industry, you can still have a leg up on the competition if you know the financial aspects of starting a business. While you'll need to learn specific requirements and unique demands of the industry, you'll still have a good idea of running a business and making it a success. Time and effort are all you need to learn the aspects of a trucking business you may not have experience with. However, it is still a good idea to consider what your talents and capabilities are in order to see if you have what it takes to start a trucking business. You should also take a step back and ask yourself exactly why you want to start a trucking business and whether or not you are prepared to do so. This book will teach you how to start, run, and grow a commercial freight delivery trucking company. We will start with the basics of starting any business - choosing a name and business structure. Then we will craft a plan for your business before writing a business plan. I will guide you in deciding your niche, what sort of drivers you will hire, and where your base of operations will be. We will define freight logistics types, including dry van, specialty loads, reefer, tankers, flatbed, and livestock. Then, I will teach you how to write a winning business plan for your new trucking company. I will teach you what to do before you physically write your business plan, as well as exactly what to include in the business plan document. I will take you through the entire process of establishing your new trucking company from idea to launch. I will tell you what licenses and permits to obtain and how to get a trucking authority. I will teach you what acronyms like USDOT, IFTA, IRP, and HVUT mean and why they are important to you as an owner-operator trucking company boss. We will discuss if you should buy or lease equipment and examine the pros and cons of how you can obtain the right equipment. You will learn about what insurances to buy and how to factor in income and expenses. I will teach you how to calculate freight rates and how to build a freight bill. I will show you how to find loads. Without loads, you can't deliver a service and can't make money! We will examine the different online load boards, paid and free versions. I will teach you how to find trucking contracts and keep recurring customers. I will show you 9 specific ways you can grow your trucking company business. I will also teach you how to use branding, marketing, and advertising to your advantage. I will also teach you how to hire and retain great drivers, what ways to utilize drug testing, and how to keep documentation to stay in compliance. Once you have read this book, you will know what you need to begin a freight trucking business, be your own boss, and work on your own schedule. Feeling like your trucking career is hitting a dead end? Here's how you can level up... Have you been working as a truck driver for years with nothing to show for it? Are you tired of answering to someone else, working long hours, spending days away from home... and only getting a small share of the profits? Do you want to have more control over your time, more flexibility and independence, as well as a bigger cut of the profits? Becoming an owner-operator may be your ticket out of dissatisfaction and the key to finally feeling fulfilled at work. By starting your own trucking business, you can finally take charge - not only of your career, but of your personal life, too. You can set your own schedules, choose your own loads, and charge your own rates. You can even choose to bring your partner or spouse along for the ride, no permission needed. However, striking out on your own also means being responsible for more than just driving. As an owner-operator, getting clients, paying the bills, maintaining your truck, and everything else, will all fall on you. Which is why it's so important that, if you want to get your business started on the right foot, you don't go into it blindly. The good news is that preparing for this exciting new chapter of your life is easier than you think. All you need is the expert advice included in this clear-cut and easy-to-understand guide. In Trucking Business Guide for Beginners, you will discover: The most important decision you will make in your trucking business that could spell the difference between success and failure What to watch out for when leasing or financing your truck - and how to avoid losing money before you've even started How to start your own owner-operator company - from choosing and registering your business to getting your authority to operate How to save on your taxes by taking advantages of these legal tax deductions Why you shouldn't accept just any customer you can get - and what type of client you should be looking for How you can charge higher rates and still get regular customers A sneak peek into what a typical day is like as an owner-operator - so that you know what to expect before you start Industry regulations you must comply with - or you'll be risking thousands of dollars in fines or even the closure of your business 8 easy-to-implement habits that will save thousands in fuel costs each year And much more. Starting any business is hard, no matter what the industry. The trucking business is even harder because of the unique challenges it faces, such as driver shortages and volatile fuel prices. But when you know what you're working towards and how to achieve it, you can overcome any challenge that stands in your way. And the rewards, both personal and financial, will be all worth it. Become an owner-operator today and take that first step to freedom, independence, and wealth. If you want to be your own boss, work your own hours, and keep 100% of your profits, then scroll up and click the "Add to Cart" button right now.

Let's talk about the money, most truck drivers can expect to earn $30,000-$40,000 in their 1st year. I know some drivers who work as Solo drivers and decide to give up their apartments so they can stay in the truck all year long and save money. They still take days off from time to time, and stay with friends, family or rent a hotel for a few days so they can take a break. Once you have 6 months experience you may be able to find a job that pays more money. I've seen motivated drivers earning in the $60,000 range in their 1st year. The money is there to earn if you look for it. Too many drivers get complacent and they stay with the same company in the same position making low wages for years and years. Sometimes all you need to do to increase your income is switch positions within the company. If the company you work for doesn't offer anything that will take you to the next level then find another company that will. I know a Walmart driver who earns $100,000 year and he's home every night and weekend. Companies pay you in cents per mile (CPM) so the more mileage you drive the more you earn The bottom line is company drivers can make anywhere from $30,000 to around $100,000 per year. Stay away from company lease options, 99% of the time only the company does well with this type of position. They will make their lease program sound perfect, touting how you will be your own boss and make lots of money. Drivers often find themselves making just enough to cover the WEEKLY truck lease payment. If you want to truly be your own boss as a owner operator of your own truck then save up the money to buy a used truck cash or you may be able to find a 3rd party (not company sponsored) lease program. I have seen a couple of decent 3rd party lease programs, these will allow you to contract with any company you want. So if you're not making enough money with one company then you can easily switch to another. Owner operators can make anywhere from $50,000 - $250,000 per year. About the Expert I have been driving a truck full time for over 4 years at the time of this publishing. I have been a company driver for 3 of those years and an owner/operator for a bit over one. In the 4+ years that I've been driving I have spent one year driving most of the lower 48 states. I haven't made it up to North Carolina, and a few other states in the northeast but all of the others I have. For the last two years I have been truck driving with my team from Los Angeles to the Kansas City area and back. We did that twice a week. After doing that for about a year I was able to get a driving position working nights and being home every day. I did that for almost year. I left there because the company did a pathetic job of maintaining their equipment. I was afraid of getting stopped by law enforcement. So I left them and got my own truck to take care of. Now I am contracted with a carrier to move their freight and it works out a lot better. HowExpert publishes quick 'how to' guides on all topics from A to Z by everyday experts.

The Owner Operator pathway is an efficient process by which foreign nationals may permanently resettle to Canada by starting or purchasing a business. The Owner Operator Labour Market Impact Assessment (LMIA) pathway is a great option for foreign nationals who are looking to become permanent residents and settle in Canada as business owners and operators. To facilitate admission into Canada under the Owner Operator LMIA stream, a foreign national must have a controlling share (50.1%+) in an existing Canadian business or launch their own business in Canada in which they have a controlling interest. The Owner Operator LMIA pathway is most suitable for three types of individuals looking to become permanent residents of Canada.1. Foreign nationals that have an established business in their home country or in several countries and are looking to launch their business in Canada by obtaining an Owner Operator LMIA2. Foreign nationals who have the financial assets to launch a new business in Canada and be approved for an Owner Operator LMIA; and or3. Foreign nationals who have the financial assets to purchase an existing business in Canada to attract the Owner Operator and be approved for an Owner Operator LMIA.The process in becoming a permanent resident of Canada through the Owner Operator LMIA pathway is summarized in an estimated possible timeline below and how CIVS can help to make it real for you and your family to immigrate to Canada. This publication is intended as a wellspring for entrepreneurs who wish to make Canada their new home through Canada's Owner Operator stream.For additional information and resources, please visit https://civs.ca or https://civs.ca/resourc

The Single Operator Lawn Care Business Model outlined in this book has great potential for sustainability and growth. It can give you and your business a strong foundation in your community. This model was created for:* The recently laid off worker * The person that requires part time additional income to make ends meet * The active retired adult that would like extra income without working for a big box retail store and would like to keep their profits in line with social security wage restrictions * The person with traditional employment challenges* The person that craves independence * The person that is tired of working for a successful lawn care business and getting paid less than $10 per hour * The person that wants flexibility of their work schedule * The seasonal worker that spends the winters in warmer climates* The student funding their education * The person that would like to have their own business and be the boss, but does not have a large amount of money to invest The advantage this book offers the regular guy is that you are not starting your business with the infamous "Lawn Care Millionaire Syndrome." That mindset leads to failure for many people that do not have a strong business sense or solid business background and easy access to capital. If you do not believe it go to craigslist in the fall and see how many lawn care - landscapers across the country are liquidating equipment. Why on earth would you let someone in the industry tell you that if you are not making a million a year you should quit and get a 9 to 5, when having a crappy 9 to 5 or losing a 9 to 5 or not being able to find a 9 to 5 is why you went into lawn care in the first place.

Chris Aragon provides a direct, somewhat cynical, and slightly gruff look at the everyday tasks and responsibilities of being an Over The Road Truck Driver as an employee of a very large trucking company. Hollywood has always painted the public picture of what yesterday's trucker looked like, but Chris's hard toned look at the modern and highly regulated Commercial Drivers License paints a much different picture. With Road Safety at the center, Chris attempts to explain some of the complexity that is today's Trucking Industry for the Non-Owner-Operator of the 18 Wheeler Culture. From the starting point of obtaining a Class A Commercial Driver's License to the day to day dealings with company management to the suggestions for comfort while out on a national tour, Chris lays his no nonsense approach out in a raw sense without the hidden meanings tucked in the folds. In Chris's previous full career as a Corrections Officer Sergeant in a maximum security setting, he developed a Funny Frowned Face as opposed to a poker face in communicating his thoughts. Chris often jokes about his Grumpy Personality with many of his friends and family and he hopes that the raw and pungent outlay doesn't protrude itself as overly provocative to any reader.

Are you a prospective owner-operator looking to start a trucking company? If so, this book is a step-by-step guide to help start your business. About the Expert Marilyn Coleman is a former professional truck driver. She started out as an administrative assistant, but felt like something was missing. She followed her dreams of becoming a professional truck driver and became an owner-operator. After talking with her father, who drove for 25 years himself, she took the step and has been driving for 17 years. During her long career as a truck driver, Marilyn traveled all over the U.S., met some interesting people, visited some interesting places, and learned a lot about the industry. As an owner-operator, she ran a small business with just one truck. She learned how to dispatch and deal with brokers, shippers, receivers, and other drivers. She no longer drives, but still keeps up with changes in rules and regulations in the trucking industry so she can inform her friends about those changes.
