Do you yearn to find your true mental, physical and emotional capacity in life? Eric Logan did, and he searched for an event that would challenge every fiber of his being and reveal his true character and capability. He found it in Kokoro, a 52 hour extreme fitness event originally designed for Navy SEAL and other special operator candidates. Eric signed up and attacked the event the year he turned 50. Kokoro is the brainchild of Mark Divine, Founder and CEO of Unbeatable Mind and SEALFIT, author of Way of the SEAL and Unbeatable Mind and Commander (Ret), US Navy SEALs. Kokoro is a 52 hour physical, mental and emotional team endurance event modeled after the SEAL's Hell Week. Eric trained at Commander Divine's CrossFit affiliate, US Crossfit, for 5 years before attempting Kokoro. Kokoro participants have historically had a 30% success rate. Kokoro, and the broader SEALFIT program, integrate physical, mental, emotional, intuitional and awareness training to develop elite-level warriors, leaders and teams. Eric is the Chief Operating Officer of COBRA PUMA Golf in Carlsbad, California, and he desired to enter the event and gain as much insight as possible about his capacity as an athlete, a leader, a husband and a father. Eric's teammates at Kokoro 42 (the 42nd iteration of the event) included a 2 time Golden Gloves boxing champion, a 7 time Spartan Race champion, an ultramarathon racer and a professional hockey player, so he had his work cut out for him, attempting to keep up with his teammates and add value to the team. While he wasn't the fittest athlete that toed the line for the start of Kokoro 42 in April, 2016, he had a clear and strong "Why" for attempting the event and a drive that would keep him from quitting. Come walk beside Eric and learn some of the lessons that he learned during Kokoro 42: - How to face your fears - How to face uncertainty - How your faith can support you and deliver you from life's darkest moments - How to deal with life's roller coaster-managing the inevitable ups and downs without getting too high or low - How to learn your strengths and use them daily for the benefit of you and others - How to learn your weaknesses, how to work around them and hopefully, how to turn them into strengths - How to be helpful in all situations - How to be an encouragement to others - How to find close life partners (Swim Buddies) who challenge and encourage you - How to operate well as a member of a team, with your family, your workmates, your athletic event teammates - Finally, and most importantly, how to learn that your capacity for life, love and work is so much bigger than you ever imagined Ready to go? Hooyah!*

The Vocabulary of Critical Thinking takes an innovative, practical, and accessible approach to teaching critical thinking and reasoning skills. With the underlying notion that the best way to practice fundamental reasoning skills is to learn to name them, the text explores one hundred and eight words that are important to know and employ within a variety of contexts. These words are about comparing, generalizing, explaining, inferring, judging sources, evaluating, referring, assuming, and creating—actions used to assess relationships and the words are grouped according to these and other concepts essential to critical thinking. Featuring five or more words and an introduction on how they are related, the text is organized into three parts. Part I includes definitions of the words, brief examples of their use, and a matching exercise. To further contextualize the words, Part II, The Meaning, provides numerous real-world examples, with commentary, of the words in use. Finally, Part III, Applying the Words, offers opportunities to employ the words through exercises and writing tasks, further enhancing understanding and providing practice of the associated critical thinking skills. Questions also appear throughout the chapters to encourage reflection and to highlight important points. Thirty-five photographs and illustrations additionally enrich the text. The book is an ideal text for critical thinking and reasoning courses as well as a variety of courses that prepare students to succeed in college: Freshman Orientation, Developing Study Skills, etc.

With a light touch and sensible techniques, Dr. Jim Petersen distills years of counseling and pastoral ministry into an informal volume loaded with practical tips, examples and techniques to practice. His book highlights our culture's courtroom-like communication that often puts people at odds with each other. Most people think they listen well but don't and folks walk away unheard, misunderstood and disconnected. Readers will chuckle in recognition at the tongue-in-cheek but spot-on "flat-brain" theory of emotions. It shows how and why we get upset and confused in tense situations and what to do about it. It lays the practical groundwork to better manage emotionally loaded situations. This book shows communication that works and is equally appropriate for professionals, such as pastors and therapists and for the general public. The ingenious Talker-Listener Card gives a taking-turn method to end arguing as we know it. It works for couples, business relationships, church listening programs, counselors, group discussions and the family dinner table listening game. Thirty listening techniques will help the reader immediately begin to turn enemies into friends, poor relationships into decent ones and good relationships into better ones. These accessible skills are being used in pastoral counseling classes, counseling offices, church staffs, professional offices, on dates, in corporate board rooms and at kitchen tables around the country .
