From the bestselling author of Tides of Honour and Promises to Keep comes a poignant novel about a young couple caught on opposite sides of the Second World War. In the fall of 1939, Grace Baker 's three brothers, sharp and proud in their uniforms, board Canadian ships headed for a faraway war. Grace stays behind, tending to the homefront and the general store that helps keep her small Nova Scotian community running. The war, everyone says, will be over before it starts. But three years later, the fighting rages on and rumours swirl about " wolf packs " of German U-Boats lurking in the deep waters along the shores of East Jeddore, a stone ' s throw from Grace ' s window. As the harsh realities of war come closer to home, Grace buries herself in her work at the store. Then, one day, a handsome stranger ventures into the store. He claims to be a trapper come from away, and as Grace gets to know him, she becomes enamoured by his gentle smile and thoughtful ways. But after several weeks, she discovers that Rudi, her mysterious visitor, is not the lonely outsider he appears to be. He is someone else entirely--someone not to be trusted. When a shocking truth about her family forces Grace to question everything she has so strongly believed, she realizes that she and Rudi have more in common than she had thought. And if Grace is to have a chance at love, she must not only choose a side, but take a stand. Come from Away is a mesmerizing story of love, shifting allegiances, and second chances, set against the tumultuous years of the Second World War.

Amazing Airplanes

The Africa of his ancestry, the Caribbean of his birth, the Britain of his upbringing, and the United States where he now lives are the focal points of award-winning writer Caryl Phillips' profound inquiry into evolving notions of home, identity, and belonging in an increasingly international society. At once deeply reflective and coolly prescient, A New World Order charts the psychological frontiers of our ever-changing world. Through personal and literary encounters, Phillips probes the meaning of cultural dislocation, measuring the distinguishing features of our identities-geographic, racial, national, religious-against the amalgamating effects of globalization. In the work of writers such as V. S. Naipaul, James Baldwin, and Zadie Smith, cultural figures such as Steven Spielberg, Linton Kwesi Johnson, and Marvin Gaye, and in his own experiences, Phillips detects the erosion of cultural boundaries and amasses startling and poignant insights on whether there can be an answer anymore to the question "Where are you from?" The result is an illuminating-and powerfully relevant-account of identity from an exceedingly perceptive citizen of the world.

A bright star twinkling high in the sky, a star-shaped cookie baked as a holiday treat . . . this enchanting board book tells a tale in rhyme of five Christmas stars and excited children waiting for Christmas to arrive. There are star-shaped holes, outlined with glitter and foil, on every page leading to the end of the tale and the shiniest star of all, sitting at the very top of the Christmas tree.

Young children can use their imaginations and go on an adventure through the skies in this fantastic novelty sound book, On The Move: Up in the Air, by Priddy Books. With a fantastic 10-button sound bar and handle-shaped pages, each exciting spread focuses on different vehicles. As well as the die-cut pages, there are two sounds to use on each spread—from an airplane taking off to a stunt plane looping-the-loop, and much more. The two-line rhymes on each page encourage children to get involved and take on the roles of a pilot and astronaut as they fly through the sky. Also available in this series: On the Move: Drive Me! and On the Move: On the Farm.

Rhyming text describes the many sounds associated with an airplane flight and what they mean. Includes a section with more facts about airplanes.
