Can one damaged girl reconcile enemies and mend mangled hearts? WARNING: This book has one girl and three sagacious...Emmm...enlightened men. She owns them all--heart, body, and soul. Don't read it unless you like age-gap romance, proximity, and enemies to lovers romance...and of course, unless you like threesomes, and foursomes. She shook her shoulders as if to dislodge the shackles of darkness, trying to consume her. Young, sad, and lonely. For Claudia Kraner, December eight, was a day she couldn't shake off no matter how hard she tried. She wished it were on the 29th of February. At least, that would spare her the yearly torment. One text. Two words. That's all it took to darken her mood. A love for skiing. A chance encounter. One thing leading to another. Three Skiers. One girl. A shattered heart, a conceited soul, and a trodden spirit. Can one damaged girl really reconcile enemies and mend mangled refuses to give-in to the two green dragon-shifters who kidnapped her. They claim she was their mate in another lifetime, and even though touching them brings back strange images from another world, she denies them. She tells herself it is because they stole her from the life she knew and destroyed her world. But the truth is, it's because she's terrified to have sex. She always imagined she'd lose her virginity in a gentle way. Not to two massive shifters. And the very idea of it terrifies her. But how can she continue to deny them? They love her curves, her wit, and everything about her. Yet, when danger

A warlock, a witch and two wolf shifters walk into the woods... sounds like a lame joke. But it's not. It's my life. My beta wolf and I found our fated mate, and once we got over the shock of the fact she was a witch, then we had to get over the fact we had to share her. That shock was nothing compared to finding out the heir to the high warlock wanted her as his wife, and they have a history. How are three men, natural enemies in the paranormal world, meant to share just one woman? Especially when there is darkness around us, a high warlock set on gaining an un-natural amount of power, and there's still the curse to break. They insist I'm anything but human, mastering my body and unleashing ancient magic hidden deep inside me. The magic is untameable. Unpredictable. But it just might give me the one thing I've always dreamed about — revenge. A thousand years. No memories. Five powerful mages dying to save her. In the city of Neo New York, mages rule the world. People like Eva, the non-magical kind, mean nothing. The only destiny waiting for her will be to serve the mages for the rest of her days. Except Eva isn't like

Locked in a tower for a crime she doesn't even remember, Eva is saved by none other than some of Neo New York's most prestigious mages, and they won't let anyone take their new toy away from them. When her memories make a reappearance, she realizes she might be a little bit more than just a nuisance. Now, Eva must dodge jealous ex-lovers and ambitious council members all while keeping her past a secret. Whoever said fairy tales had happy endings hasn't walked a minute in Eva's shoes.
