Military history has established that musical units are an integral part of the Marine Corps (Appendix A). Marine Corps Bands are an important stimulus to morale and esprit de corps and provide the Commanding General, and the unit, a vital link to ceremonial traditions. In combat, musical units continue musical functions and augment security on a temporary basis during periods of heightened combat intensity when use of the band in its primary role is impractical.

The RDS-1 was created as a prototype for evaluation of a complex, portable, turnkey, video / audio recording studio for today's Concert Video Producers, TV Producers, industrial Media departments, high end Videographer, or well-funded Band that wants to produce

This unit also provides equipment to direct a 6 video camera crew including video screens, preview and program out switchers and an intercom system. Even though major pieces of equipment like the Makie 24/96 hard disk recorder are out of production there are a number of even better recorders that can take its place when you decide to make your own recording console. Antistatic sprays from several different manufacturers are examined. The sprays are examined for contamination potential

(i.e., outgassing and nonvolatile residue), corrosiveness on an aluminum mirror surface, and electrostatic effectiveness. In addition, the chemical composition of the antistatic sprays is determined by infrared spectrophotometry, mass spectrometry, and ultraviolet spectrophotometry. The results show that 12 of the 17 antistatic sprays examined have a low contamination potential. Of these sprays, 7 are also noncorrosive to an aluminum surface. And of these, only 2 demonstrate good electrostatic properties with respect to reducing voltage accumulation; these sprays did not show a fast voltage dissipation rate however. The results indicate that antistatic sprays can be used on a limited basis where contamination potential, corrosiveness, and electrostatic effectiveness is not critical. Each application is different and proper evaluation of the situation is necessary. Information on some of the properties of some antistatic sprays is presented in this document to aid in the evaluation process. Ming, James E. Goddard
