Prodotta dal Centro Culturale Candiani con il contributo dell'Istituto Culturale dell'Ambasciata della Repubblica Islamica dell'Iran, di Kel12, di Orient Explorer e con il patrocinio dell'Università Ca' Foscari di Venezia, la mostra raccoglie centoventidue immagini scattate in Iran e selezionate da Riccardo Zipoli. La parte dedicata alle strade presenta quaranta fotografie, venti in bianco e nero del grande regista e fotografo Abbas Kiarostami e venti, a colori, di Riccardo Zipoli, fotografo oltre che studioso di cultura iraniana e docente di letteratura persiana a Ca' Foscari. Altre dodici fotografie, anch'esse di Zipoli, ritraggono paesaggi naturali. Settanta scatti inediti, infine, illustrano la vita della gente comune e sono opera di autori di quel paese selezionati in Iran con un bando pubblicato su un sito apposito il 30 dicembre 2006 e scaduto il 30 gennaio 2007. Mettere in risalto la complessità dell'odierno panorama culturale iraniano, tutt'altro che riconducibile alle sole monolitiche espressioni di regime e imparare a conoscere un paese fratello, pur con qualche ovvia, ma non insormontabile, differenza, agevolandone in tal modo la comprensione, è quanto il Candiani si propone con questa mostra e con una serie di altre iniziative collaterali: rassegne cinematografiche, spettacoli, incontri letterari, serate gastronomiche, accentuando quella propensione all'internazionalità che costituisce motivo di crescita per Mestre. Edizione in lingua inglese.

The war in Iraq has put the condition of Iraqi women firmly on the global agenda. For years, their lives have been framed by state oppression, economic sanctions and three wars. Now they must play a seminal role in reshaping their country's future for the twenty-first century. Nadje Al-Ali challenges the myths and misconceptions which have dominated debates about Iraqi women, bringing a much needed gender perspective to bear on the central political issue of our time. Based on life stories and oral histories of Iraqi women, she traces the history of Iraq from post-colonial independence, to the emergence of a women's movement in the 1950s, Saddam Hussein's early policy of state feminism to the turn towards greater social conservatism triggered by war and sanctions. Yet, the book also shows that, far from being passive victims, Iraqi women have been, and continue to be, key social and political actors. Following the invasion, Al-Ali analyses the impact of occupation and Islamist movements on women's lives and argues that US-led calls for liberation has led to a greater backlash against Iraqi women.

Texts From the Buddhist Canon, Commonly Known as Dhammapada

The research - theme with variations "Odyssey and Sirens..." - proceeds from long-standing anxiety to discover the far ancient origin of the Albanian Iso-polyphony as a stupendous occurrence of conception of music itself. Theses and hypotheses on such symbolism are interweaved in, and furthermore, sufficient motives proving the existence of the Iso-polyphony from the times of ancient civilisations can be found. It has really been a pleasure to deal with this subject, though quite frequently during this inexhaustible work of defining the research we had to be engaged in matters beyond our competencies and desire for a mere ethno musicological interpretation of Homer's "Odyssey".
