This is a study of the analytic tools and processes involved in the formulation and implementation of strategic choices in realistic organizational settings.

Nonprofit organizations are complex and distinctive organizational entities. Key Features - Fills a gap in the current literature by providing a thorough examination of management and planning issues experienced by nonprofit managers, including challenges such as muted markets and specific performance expectations. - Blends together theoretical, empirical, and normative literature with descriptive stories of managing in the sector. - Suggests some optimal practices for managers who want to strengthen their organizations. - Perfect for graduate students in nonprofit management programs. - Supported by a complete package of instructor ancillary materials including an Instructor's Manual, PowerPoints, and Test Bank
