This study attempts to analyse the text of Hebrews with a method of discourse analysis primarily based on a form of systemic functional linguistics developed for Hellenistic Greek, but it is also informed by other linguistic studies. It begins with a general survey of the literature that is either influential or representative of approaches to the structure of Hebrews. The survey is followed by an introduction to the terminology and definitions of discourse analysis, as well as the theory behind the methodology, and describes a procedure for analysing text. Hebrews is treated as having three sections. The first section of Hebrews (1:1-4:16) demonstrates the organization of the units, the topic of the units, the prominent text, and the relationship of the first section with the rest of the discourse. The second section of Hebrews (4:11-10:25) is described in two parts (4:11-7:28 and 8:1-10:25) because of its length. There is an overlap between the first and second sections in 4:11-16 and between the second and third sections in 10:19-25. Both of these passages have a concluding function for the preceding co-text and a staging function for the following co-text, so that they look backwards and forwards. The third and final section in 10:19-13:25 contains the climax or discourse peak. The study is concluded with a description of the coherence of the discourse and a presentation of a mental representation of the text. JSNTS attempting to understand the relationship between candidate image and candidate issue.

Especially given a lack of theory relating to how these social constructs are perceived by audiences trying to make electoral choices, there is a need for clarification of our understanding of image and issue as they relate to one another. With this in mind, this thesis seeks to understand how exposure to information about one of these social constructs helps inform our understanding of the other. Does exposure to candidate image information help voters know about a candidate's policy stances? Does exposure to information about a candidate's platforms help voters know about candidate persona?

File Type PDF The Analysis Of Relationship Between School Bullying And

Why do we perceive to have comprehensive knowledge about a candidate after only reading a brief story about their family? These central questions guide the research described here. The findings of this research suggest that participants

believe they know about a candidate's image when only exposed to issue information, and that participants believe they know about a candidate's platforms when only exposed to image information. Furthermore, this study found that when lacking information, participants inferred what they did not know to build a more comprehensive schema for the given candidate.

Organizational crises, in modern society, requires an immediate response. Chaotic stages occur during organizational changes resulting in emotional experiences for leaders who develop intense feelings of anger, shock, and frustration. Leaders who are not prepared will be overwhelmed by the need for an aggressive response to change. The ability to solve problems successfully will increase movement of the organization through the chaos stage. Building a foundation of preparation for a leader, prior to the organizational change stage, will decrease levels of dysfunction the organization may experience. It is time for a new approach to managing organizational chaos. The research in this book provides original contributions to leadership studies

by applying general systems and chaos theory to leadership behaviors in times of crisis. Chaos theory offers different perspectives that will allow leaders to develop capacities for changing their existing approaches to chaotic events. Results from the research in this study are valuable to credit union leaders, and also all business leaders, who need new models that recognize external factors influencing the sustainability of the organization. This adaptability is one of the most effective leadership skills a leader can display (Higgs & Rowland, 2005). Introducing general systems and chaos theory into organizational leadership has become a new approach to leadership psychology and philosophy, promising to influence leadership and management theories (Bums, 2002). The significance of chaos theory for leadership studies lies in its heuristic power. If the challenges to normal events are observed through the lens of chaos theory, organizational leaders may make better-informed

A follow-up study of recruits, whose adaptation to the Army was initially studied in Basic Combat Training in October-December 1961, was conducted to determine their performance subsequent to BCT and their degree of success in the Army in relationship to recruit characteristics observed during BCT. Administrative data were collected by means of questionnaires completed at the time of their termination in 1963 and 1964. Early Army performance (BCT proficiency and sociometric peer ratings) was predictive of later Army success. Early attitudes toward the Army and career orientation showed
