A story all cats know and love to tell, this epic tale about the power of love between humans and cats will put a smile in your heart. What's more, it's a legend nearly every cat knows and loves, a favorite story that's continually told and retold whenever cats get together. But this amazing story from cats' oral traditions has never been written down--until now. The Ridley Park cats are eagerly looking forward to the Christmas Cat Show at the Gardens. When Whiskie's human "Mom" (the Show's organizer) is kidnapped by evil men, Whiskie and seven of his show cat friends set out to find her. Soon our intrepid heroes become lost, filthy, and starving. In the depths of their trials, they meet Chicago Red, a tough tomcat who knows his way around a good adventure. When Whiskie dreams his Mom is trapped at a farm where the animals are covered with blood, it's a dark omen, indeed. But with Chicago Red as their guide, our intrepid heroes plunge into the wilds to find the farm and risk their lives -- all in the name of friendship.

Winner of the 2019 Certificate of Excellence and MUSE Medallion from the Cat Writers Association The nineteenth century was a rough time to be a stray cat in New York City. The city's human residents dealt with feline overpopulation by gassing unwanted cats or tossing them in rivers. But a few lucky strays were found by a diverse array of men—including firemen, cops, athletes, and politicians—who rescued them from the streets and welcomed them into their homes and hearts. This book tells the stories of these heroic cat men of Gotham and their beloved feline companions. Not only does it introduce us to some remarkable men, but we get to meet many extraordinary cats as well, from Chinese stowaways prowling the Chelsea Piers to the sole feline survivor of the USS Maine explosion. Among the forty-two profiles, we find many feline Cinderella stories, as humble alley cats achieved renown as sports team mascots, artists' muses, and even presidential pets. Sure to appeal to cat fanciers and history fans alike, The Cat Men of Gotham will give you a new appreciation for Old New York and the people and animals who made it their home. As it takes you on a journey through the streets of Manhattan and Brooklyn, it will amuse and astound you with tales of powerful men and their pussycats. This is a story about how an unlikely pair overcame first impressions and outward appearances to become best friends. It demonstrates that overlooking differences in order to become friends can give you someone with whom to share your life, and therefore makes both your lives happier and more complete. The Proverbial Cat is a collection of delightful cat illustrations by artist Sydney Hauser. Over the years, Hauser's works of art and calligraphy have been tremendously popular among cat lovers. Her ability to capture feline expressions allows her to create illustrations that are warm and wise, with just a touch of "cattitude!" Paired with each illustration is a maxim, a proverb, or a thought that captures what it means to be a cat. The Proverbial Cat is a charming gift for those who celebrate the domestic cat!

Cats aren't just cute and cuddly; they also have a lot to teach us about life. Our cats are our companions—they love us deeply, are always honest with us (sometimes too honest), and are there for us when we need them most. There is no sound in the world quite as soothing as the purr of a contented cat by our side. But cats are even more than our companions--they can be our wise teachers, sharing lessons that stay in our hearts forever. Cats show us the importance of trusting the people we love; they model how to live with confident authenticity; and they inspire us to overcome obstacles that stand in our way. Ultimately, God has given us animals to point us to Himself--to the One who is always there and who loves us unconditionally, right where we are. Pawverbs for a Cat Lover's Heart is a collection of stories with beautiful photographs, each featuring a real-life animal and sharing a principle from the book of Proverbs. You'll not only find inspiring and heartwarming tales, but also spiritual truths to touch your heart and remind you of God's unfailing love, wisdom, and grace.

A fascinating journey of discovery for independently minded cat lovers. One summer, Alice Maddicott was adopted by a beautiful tabby called Dylan, and together they shared six years of loving friendship. Alice collected second-hand photos - orphan images - and in her sadness after Dylan's death, she pored over the old photographs of women and their cats. Cats in gardens, cats on laps, cats in alleys and on steps, accompanied by women who were diffident and affectionate, fierce and whimsical, young and old. What did these cats mean to the women who cared for them? Why have cat-owning women always been viewed with suspicion? And where did the Crazy Cat Lady stereotype emerge from, when other cultures revere rather than fear this relationship? Examining these questions and many more, Cat Women is a moving exploration of wild natures and domestic affections. 'This whimsical project is so satisfyingly of a piece with its subject.' Hephzibah Anderson, Observer Lovable dog Greubie is so excited to arrive at her new forever home. While exploring, she meets kittens Tom, Lippy, Socks, and Fluffy...and comes to believe she is a cat, too! Greubie and her Cats become fast friends, but their newfound friendship is tested by Buddy, the mean dog who lives down the road. Will Buddy spill the kibble that Greubie is really a dog? And what will Greubie and her friends do when they find out the truth? Based on a true story, Greubie and the Cats is a heartwarming tale of the power of friendship.

Nobody "owns" a cat. You may feed it, pay for its vet bills, pet it, and talk to it every day, but that cat is your friend, not your possession. The cat's independent nature and self-respecting attitude are what set it apart from other pets, and when one is your friend, you know that friendship is deep and true. In this delightful tribute to the friendship of cats, wonderful full-color photographs are paired with insightful quotations on the meaning of friendship and loyalty.

A beautiful Palestinian folktale teaches the golden rule. Ages 6-10. Celebrate man's other best friend—the cat—in this delightful gift book for pet lovers, feline fans, and anyone who appreciates cats and the dudes who love them. Countless books and blogs have extolled the virtues of the Cat Lady—now photographer David Williams celebrates cat-owning men and the precious kitties who have stolen their hearts. His subjects represent a cross-section of American society—musicians and artists, soldiers and CEOs, truck drivers and tattoo artists—with one very furry common denominator. These fun, fuzzy, and offbeat portraits are full of personality, and the accompanying stories share everything from “how we met” to how the cats earned their names. Having been left behind by their owners and forced to ride out the deadly storm, Bobbi the dog breaks free from his chain and goes in search of food on his own, followed endlessly by a frightened, blind cat whose entire survival depends on his new best friend. 35,000 first printing.

Psychiatrist Jack Caleb and Chicago cop John Thinnes return in this “well-crafted procedural . . . intriguingly presented . . . spiked by psychological insight” (Booklist). After a woman is brutally raped in the posh Lincoln Park neighborhood of Chicago and a second rape victim is murdered, the hunt for a serial rapist/killer becomes a “heater” case, front-burnered due to the scrutiny of publicity. The pressure is on Det. John Thinnes and his new partner, a strong-willed feminist cop named Don Franchi. Psychiatrist Jack Caleb is acting as a police consultant to construct a psychological profile of the rapist, and Thinnes asks his friend to step in and mediate the friction between him and his partner. If they’re going to solve an increasingly complicated and disturbing case that matches the MO of earlier, similar crimes in another Illinois city, they need to find a way to work together . . .
