

The Lost Scrolls Collection Avatar The Lost Scrolls

In another age, power is balanced among four great nations: Water, Earth, Fire, Air. Leaders of each nation are able to manipulate - bend - their native element. Only one, the Avatar, whose spirit is reincarnated through the years, can master all four elements - and is the only one who can restore world order. When the Avatar disappeared a hundred years ago, the Fire Nation attacked. All hope was lost. . . until the arrival of Aang, the young Airbender, who reveals himself as the new Avatar. The fate of the world now lies in his hands.

Introduce readers to a lost age where the world is divided into four nations: Water, Earth, Fire, and Air. Within each nation, "benders" learn to control their native element. But, only one bender in each generation is capable of controlling all four elements. That bender is the Avatar. The book introduces young readers to the world of Avatar with their history, culture, and legends. Keep the scrolls safe—but share them with your friends! One of the four hidden scrolls about the world of Avatar that contains sacred information about the Earth Nation, including how Katara and the Earthbenders imprisoned on a Fire Nation ship to take a stand and how Aang outsmarts King Bumi.

Aang revisits his former monastery, Katara learns the truth about Aang's mysterious past, and Sokka reveals how he saved the Northern Air Temple from the Fire Nation. The scroll also contains information about Airbending moves, Air temples and monks, the Avatar Cycle, and much more.

Avatar, the Last Airbender the Lost Scrolls

The Allegory of the Cave, or Plato's Cave, was presented by the Greek philosopher Plato in his work Republic (514a–520a) to compare "the effect of education (παιδεία) and the lack of it on our nature". It is written as a dialogue between Plato's brother Glaucon and his mentor Socrates, narrated by the latter. The allegory is presented after the analogy of the sun (508b–509c) and the analogy of the divided line (509d–511e). All three are characterized in relation to dialectic at the end of Books VII and VIII (531d–534e). Plato has Socrates describe a group of people who have lived chained to the wall of a cave all of their lives, facing a blank wall. The people watch shadows projected on the wall from objects passing in front of a fire behind them, and give names to these shadows. The shadows are the prisoners' reality.

"If you are reading this, you have uncovered one of the four hidden scrolls I have compiled about the world of Avatar. This scroll contains all of the knowledge that I have gathered so far about the Water Tribes -- their history and culture and the great tales of their past and present.
