All previous Biblical Hebrew lexicons have provided a modern western definition and perspective to Hebrew roots and words. between the Modern Western mind and the Ancient Hebrew's is that their mind related all words and their meanings to a concrete concept. For instance, the Hebrew word "chai" is normally translated as "life", a western abstract meaning, but the original Hebrew concrete meaning of this word is the "stomach". In the Ancient Hebrew mind, a full stomach is a sign of a full "life". The Hebrew language is a root system oriented language and the lexicon is divided into sections reflecting this root system. Excerpt from The Meaning of Holy Baptism A second reason arises from the condition of things within the Church of England itself. Our Lord ordained two Sacraments of the Gospel, Baptism and the Lord's Supper. Neither in any recorded words of His nor in any official formulary of the Church is there a hint that one of these is to be placed in a position of greater importance than the other. Yet, through the Operation of various causes, it has resulted that the Lord's Supper is thought a great deal more about than Baptism. One cause is unavoidable. Baptism takes place but once in a man's life; he receives the Lord's Supper many times. That which he does constantly in mature life he naturally thinks more about than that which is done to him once in his infancy. The other chief cause is to some extent avoidable, and therefore those who permit it to operate cannot be exonerated from all blame. The introductory rubric to the Baptism Service for Infants distinctly says that it is most convenient that Baptism should not be administered but upon Sundays and other Holy Days, when the most number of people come together. These are precisely the occasions when it is now generally found to be most inconvenient (in the modern sense of the word) to administer Baptism, and the Sacrament is therefore very commonly relegated to week-days or quiet intervals on Sundays. The result is, that there are many in our so-called Christian England who are almost ignorant of the ceremonies of Baptism. What matters more is, that there are many regular Churchpeople in all ranks of society who have only very vague ideas, if they have any ideas at all, about the inner meaning of Baptism. The following chapters are an attempt to explain that meaning in simple and untechnical language. Their object is, first of all, to enable

Churchpeople to understand for themselves what was done for them when they were baptized and, secondly, to enable them to pass that knowledge on to the numerous thoughtful and inquiring men and women who unfortunately do not usually take any part in the public worship of God. Whether one thinks that religion continues to fade or has made a comeback in the contemporary world, there is a common notion that religion went away somewhere, at least in the West. But William Cavanaugh argues that religious fervor never left it has only migrated toward a new object of worship. In Migrations of the Holy he examines the disconcerting modern transfer of sacred devotion from the church to the nation-state. In these chapters Cavanaugh cautions readers to be wary of a rigid separation of religion and politics that boxes in the church and sends citizens instead to the state for hope, comfort, and salvation as they navigate the risks and pains of mortal life. When nationality becomes the primary source of identity and belonging, he warns, the state becomes the god and idol of its own religion, the language of nationalism becomes a liturgy, and devotees willingly sacrifice their lives to serve and defend their country. Cavanaugh urges Christians to resist this form of idolatry, to unthink the inevitability of the nation-state and its dreary party politics, to embrace radical forms of political pluralism that privilege local communities and to cling to an incarnational theology that weaves itself seamlessly and tangibly into all aspects of daily life and culture. William Cavanaugh continues to provide leadership and vision in the field of political theology. He addresses essential questions about the religious status of the nation-state, the political character of the church, and how the tradition of Christian political thought might be brought to bear upon contemporary politics. . . . Central to God's character is the quality of holiness. Yet, even so, most people are hard-pressed to define what God's holiness precisely is.

Many preachers today avoid the topic altogether because people today don't quite know what to do with words like "awe" or "fear."

R. C. Sproul, in this classic work, puts the holiness of God in its proper and central place in the Christian life. He paints an awe-inspiring vision of God that encourages Christian to become holy just as God is holy. Once you encounter the holiness of God, your life will never be the same.

Believers need to understand that the God is the Standard for everything including the definition and meaning of words as revealed in the Bible especially in the New Testament Scriptures. There are many translated words from the original text of the New Testament such as love ("agape"), to love("agapao"), good("agathos" or "kalos"), righteous)("dikaios"), evil("poneros" or "kakos"), faith("pistis"), truth("aletheia"), etc., that cannot be correctly understood when the meanings are taken from world dictionaries nor from experts in Hebrew and Greek languages. For example, the biblical meaning of love("agape") is that The God is love(1 John 5:8,16). Mankind are NOT love! Accordingly, only One, the God is able to love("agapao"), no mankind is able to love("agapao"). This is the bible definition of love("agape") and to love("agapao"). This Book 26 reveals the biblical meaning of the translated words truth and the truth. Truth in the original Greek text is "aletheia." A typical world or mankind definition of truth is: truthfulness; constancy; actuality; accuracy or adjustment; an established fact; known facts; knowledge(Chambers Twentieth Century dictionary. New Edition, by M. Macdonald 1972), According to the world dictionary any one can speak the truth, while the biblical definition of "aletheia" or truth is that "the word of the God is truth." And that "Jesus Christ is the truth." This means any mankind who speaks accurately of what actually happens is only speaking a fact, but is not speaking "truth" because only the word of the God is "truth." Paul in Romans 3:4 revealed that the God came into being or exists as "true" ("alethes") but every mankind a "falsifier" ("pseustes"). This means that no mankind came/comes into being as "true" and therefore whatever any mankind speak cannot be "truth" ("aletheia") unless mankind speak "the word of the God" or mankind are led by the God through His Son, Jesus Christ by His Spirit to speak His word. The biblical definitions of "truth" ("aletheia") and "the truth" ("ho aletheia") are given in John 17:17 and John 14:6. "Truth" and "the truth" are also linked to the God and the Lord Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit and also to holy, holiness, righteous, righteousness, love and faith and the gospel of salvation. In fact only when true believers are made holy in "the truth" of the God will they be able to enter into the kingdom of the God or to receive everlasting life. This Book translates every scripture in the New Testament Greek Received Text concerning "truth" ("aletheia") and "the truth"("ho aletheia") and its importance to the salvation of every true believer.
