The Code of Federal Regulations is the codification of the general and permanent rules published in the Federal Register by the executive departments and agencies of the Federal Government.

The book has been primarily designed for the students of C.A. Foundation course for the subject Business Economics. It has been revised and remodelled according to the newly introduced C.A. Foundation course. Written in concise and self-explanatory style, this book contains detailed notes and Multiple Choice Questions-Answers with detailed reasoning on Business Economics.

This report provides guidance to the Gulf Ecosystem Monitoring (GEM) program to help ensure that it is based on a science plan that is robust, far-reaching, and scientifically sound. The report commends the Trustee Council for its foresight in setting aside funds to create a trust fund to provide long-term research support; it notes that the GEM program offers an unparalleled opportunity to increase understanding of how large marine ecosystems function and change over time. The report outlines elements of a sound long-term science plan, including conceptual foundation, scope and geographic focus, organizational structure, community involvement, data and information management, and synthesis, modeling, and evaluation.

Educational administration is regarded as the process of integrating the appropriate human and material resources that are made available and made effective for achieving the purposes of a programme of an educational institution. The term 'Administration' doesn't refer to any single process or act. It is like a broad umbrella encompassing a number of processes such as: planning, organizing, directing, coordinating, controlling and evaluating the performance. The same situation occurs in the field of educational administration. The concept of educational administration is applicable in case of an educational organisation which has certain purposes or goals to fulfill.

Fundamentals of Sociology is a textbook for undergraduate students of sociology. This book comprehensively explains the basics of sociology, including social concepts, institutions and the theories of prominent thinkers. Importance has also been given to various important approaches to sociology, including women and society, social change and the role of social legislation in social change. The book is designed keeping in mind the students' needs. Therefore, every unit is divided into chapters, which are further divided into subtopics. Every chapter ends with a number of questions for the students' practice. The book contains an exhaustive list of suggested readings for students who wish to explore this subject further.

The repeated appeal from the academic community to prepare a simple textbook of Fiscal Economics to meet the requirements of the undergraduate community has been the motivation to prepare the present textbook of Fiscal. The text has been carefully prepared to incorporate all that is relevant from the examination point of view as based on our thorough assessment of the past question papers and the emerging trends.

The Model Rules of Professional Conduct provides an up-to-date resource for information on legal ethics. Federal, state and local courts in all jurisdictions look to the Rules for guidance in solving lawyer malpractice cases, disciplinary actions, disqualification issues, sanctions questions and much more. In this volume, black-letter Rules of Professional Conduct are followed by numbered Comments that explain each Rule's purpose and provide suggestions for its practical application. The Rules will help you identify proper conduct in a variety of given situations, review those instances where discretionary action is possible, and define the nature of the relationship between you and your clients, colleagues and the courts.

Basic Accounting: Service Business Study Guide is designed as a reference material in introductory accounting that can be used by readers, especially students, taking basic accounting for service business. Presentations and discussions of various accounting concepts and frameworks are simplified to provide the reader with an initial working knowledge on the different steps of the accounting cycle for a service business. Emphasis is given to various accounting concepts, at the same time, the development of the procedural accounting skills. Different basic accounting frameworks and forms are used to assist readers in understanding seemingly complex accounting subject matters. The authors would like to inform the users of this study guide that this was written for readers, especially students, who would want to read a quick guide for the rubrics of basic accounting for service business. Each unit is prefaced with learning objectives to serve as guide to readers. Discussion questions and problem exercises are not included in this reference material. This study guide can be effectively use together with a workbook which is available in the university where one of the authors is currently affiliated. This reference material is not intended to replace existing accounting textbooks written by famous authors whom we have respectfully cited and given credit in this guide. The user of this study guide will walk through the accounting process in a rational, concise and "easy to understand" manner. With the teacher's expert guidance, plus this study guide to learning the basics in accounting, the student will undoubtedly appreciate the fundamentals of accounting. Our desire is to open the eyes of students that studying basic accounting is both easy and rewarding.

In writing this book entitled "Teaching of Geography (Fundamentals, Principles and Methods)", the authors have been driven by two important parameters. The first one is that a person who wants to get training in the teaching of geography, he/she must know the fundamentals of the subject. The B.Ed. students come from different academic backgrounds and have no basic understanding of the discipline. With this in mind, we have incorporated many chapters in this book concerning with the basic concepts, nature and scope of the subject of geography. Secondly, many of the books written so far contain inadequate methodologies and evaluation schemes used in the discipline of teaching of geography. In this connection, also some topics have been set to deal with the selection of teaching objectives, teaching methodologies, teaching plans, paper setting and evaluation schemes. There may also be a number of other factors that prompted us to take this venture. The present work is written just to help the students and facilitate their scholastic journey. The present work fulfills the objectives of curriculum designed for the B.Ed. students with good accuracy and preciseness.

Geography does not mean description of the earth's surface. Many changes have occurred due to external and internal forces. Out of these forces many types, micro-organisms and macro-organisms play an important role of all biological elements on this earth, man is the most important creature, and he is the most intelligent of all the living beings. Man has used natural resources for his needs and welfare. All the necessities for the living things are satisfied from natural environment. He has used natural resources according to his needs, sometimes, adapted his living according to natural laws of the earth while at times he has used it by his own will, thus without submitting to the nature.
