An award-winning scientist offers his unorthodox approach to childrearing: “Parentology is brilliant, jaw-droppingly funny, and full of wisdom.bound to change your thinking about parenting and its conventions” (Amy Chua, author of Battle Hymn of the Tiger Mother). If you’re like many parents, you might ask family and friends for advice when faced with important choices about how to raise your kids. You might turn to parenting books or simply rely on timeworn religious or cultural traditions. But when Dalton Conley, a dual-doctorate scientist and full-blown nerd, needed childrearing advice, he turned to scientific research to make the big decisions. In Parentology, Conley hilariously reports the results of those experiments, from bribing his kids to do math (since studies show conditional cash transfers improved educational and health outcomes for kids) to teaching them impulse control by giving them weird names (because evidence shows kids with unique names learn not to react when their peers tease them) to getting a vasectomy (because fewer kids in a family mean smarter kids). Conley encourages parents to draw on the latest data to rear children, if only because that level of engagement with kids will produce solid and happy ones. Ultimately these experiments are very loving, and the outcomes are redemptive—even when Conley’s sassy kids show him the limits of his profession. Parentology teaches you everything you need to know about the latest literature on parenting—with lessons that go down easy. You’ll be laughing and learning at the same time. This manual gives step-by-step instructions, linked to photos and illustrations to show how to do each job. It covers all Ford Ka models with 1299cc petrol engines and provides tips and shortcuts to make the job easier. Hatchback inc. special/limited editions. Petrol: 1.3 litre (1299cc).

Reading Pleasures

This is a little gem of a book—the perfect Christmas gift for lovers of reading! Reading Pleasures is filled with gorgeous photographs and artworks, each paired with an inspiring quotation. Book lover and host of The Book Club Jennifer Byrne introduces the book magnificently in her Foreword: ‘Here are brief quotations and observations on the reading life, accompanied by illustrations from the National Library of Australia’s own collection’. They ‘amount to a celebration—and examination—of the lifelong, earthy, impossible-to-explain love affair between readers and their books.’ ‘We all read in different ways: some in a private moment revelling in the escape that reading allows, or some with an eye to sharing and discussing. Tim Winton sums up reading in one word: ‘privacy’. But for others, reading is company. ‘As long as you have the capacity to read,’ says Elliot Perlman, ‘you needn’t be alone any more’. Or as Richard Flanagan puts it in The Narrow Road to the Deep North, when his hero Dorrigo Evans stands in his library: ‘he was not alone’. And Miles Franklin wonderfully describes the place we go to when we are reading as ‘book-land’. To return to Jennifer: ‘As the chorus of voices in this book makes clear, there are as many ways to read as there are to live.’

With a Haynes manual, you can do it yourself...from simple maintenance to basic repairs. Haynes writes every book based on a complete teardown of the vehicle.
